

WORLD VOYAGER

time to discover

OCEAN CRUISES | 2022/23

Dear guests and friends of nicko cruises,

The last two years have been challenging for us all, marked by uncertainty and restrictions. The yearning we feel to discover exotic countries and encounter unfamiliar cultures is as strong as ever. Come on board our expedition ship WORLD VOYAGER and finally enjoy freedom on the oceans once again. It is time to discover the world!

In celebration of our 30th anniversary here at nicko cruises, we have put together some exceptional cruise routes for you. The particularly long layovers in the ports – often overnight in fact – give you enough time to thoroughly get to know your travel destination. The small size of our expedition ship WORLD VOYAGER, designed for just 200 guests, enables it to dock in ports, bays and fjords that are out of bounds for large ships with thousands of guests. Your ocean cruise around Spain thus becomes a river cruise as you sail on the Guadalquivir river into Seville's city centre. In the Caribbean and around Central America, dense rainforest, white sandy beaches and exciting colonial cities await you. The daytime passage through the Panama Canal is an unforgettable experience! In northern Europe, you will be accompanied by a trained expedition team to Spitsbergen's majestic glaciers, Greenland's icy fjords and Iceland's powerful geysers. You will observe the unique, sub-polar world of animals up close and personal on Zodiacs.

Whichever cruise you choose, your safety and health is our top priority. Thanks to our proven nicko cruises safety and hygiene measures for guests and crew, which include the 2G rule permitting only those who have been vaccinated or who have recovered from COVID-19 to travel, you can explore your travel destination carefree. Furthermore, the use of the latest engine and exhaust technology, an innovative waste processing facility as well as the WORLD VOYAGER's environmentally friendly hybrid engine ensure that we visit sensitive destinations in the most sustainable way possible.

And the discoveries you make are not just limited to our shore excursions, there's lots to explore on board our ship too. In a refined atmosphere, you can expect a modern, informal 5-star standard with all the amenities. Relax in the sauna with a sea view, listen to lectures given by experienced lecturers in the auditorium, look forward to live music in the bar or enjoy the delicacies prepared by our chef. Our friendly, over 100-strong crew are ready and waiting. Browse through this catalogue and compare our expedition ship with other ships of the same size: you will find that nicko cruises offers excellent service at a very attractive price.

We look forward to welcoming you soon on your dream cruise.

Our expedition ship. Welcome on board!

The WORLD VOYAGER combines the requirements of discerning guests in a very unique way: a manageable number of passengers and a bright, tasteful interior leaves nothing to be desired. You will not find any other comparable ship of this size on the market offering such good value for money. WORLD VOYAGER is designed to meet our English-speaking guests' expectations and has been lovingly designed down to the finest detail. The personal atmosphere on board is key to the sense of well-being, while our excursions guarantee you unforgettable experiences.

A ship that can do everything

The special feature of the WORLD VOYAGER is its small size. State-of-the-art technology ensures that our ship has been built according to the latest technological standards. It benefits from ice class 1B and polar class C, so it can safely navigate all the oceans. With a length of only 126 metres, though, it can navigate ports that are inaccessible for the "big ones". The space miracle unfolds on boarding the comfortable cabins and suites between 17 and 44 m² in size, two lounges, a fitness room, a spa with sea view and much more.

Ultimate feel-good factor, personal atmosphere

Our total of 109 crew members have only one goal: to make you feel comfortable! The exceptionally small number of guests exudes a personal atmosphere and a relaxed feeling from the moment you step on board. No hustle and bustle during shore excursions, no queues at the buffet, no scramble on the sun deck for the best view. After a busy day you can relax in the spa area if you fancy it. Or you can enjoy the sunset on the horizon from your personal veranda.

Show responsibility – Preserve wonders

The WORLD VOYAGER was designed subject to the condition that it used all the very latest technological capabilities to be able to travel around the world in the most gentle and considerate way possible. You can find out in detail how we do this on the following two pages. Sustainability is not however just an important issue in the parts of the ship the guests don't get to see. For example, water is provided in glass bottles free of charge in all bars, restaurants and cabins. They are filled on board and can also be carbonated upon request. In each cabin you will also find drinks bottles made from stainless steel – ideal for taking with you on excursions. They can be re-filled anytime at the water station in the lobby area.

Travel sustainably on the high seas with nicko cruises.

We want to protect what we value. Sustainable travel is important so future generations can enjoy the wonders of the earth in all their beauty. Many years of research and development went into the planning of the WORLD VOYAGER. In addition to an on-board water treatment facility and the dynamic positioning system, which helps the ship maintain position without having to drop anchor, the sustainability of the WORLD VOYAGER is based on the following elements:

Environmentally friendly hybrid drive

The innovative engine technology used originates from Rolls-Royce and has two different drive systems: electronic and diesel motors. It is one of the most modern and energy-saving ship engines there has ever been and is extremely environmentally friendly. WORLD VOYAGER therefore uses extremely progressive technology. When travelling at a leisurely pace, the ship can shift to eco mode, which uses just one of the two main engines to drive the ship's propellers, thus saving fuel. In calm bodies of water, the small ship glides along almost silently and with extremely low emissions – powered only by its electric motor.

The use of two innovative pump jets reduces volume compared to conventional propellers and minimises the impact of noise on marine fauna. Together with the two main engines and the generator, this saves around 20% of fuel compared to conventional ship propulsion systems.

The ship burns low sulphur MGO (marine gas oil), producing significantly less fine dust and soot than crude oil, which is used by most other ocean-going vessels. Studies show that MGO generates 70 to 85% less sulphur oxide than crude oil.

SCR catalytic converter

On board, selective catalytic reduction technology (SCR) is installed to reduce the emission of nitrogen oxide (NOx) using a catalytic converter. By using SCR technology, it is possible to reduce NOx in the combustion process by up to 95%. WORLD VOYAGER thus meets the current strict legal regulations and in terms of the treatment of exhaust gases is also equipped for the future.

Waste recycling / micro auto gasification system

On WORLD VOYAGER, we use a state-of-the-art waste recycling system: it involves patented technology that converts carbon-based waste into gas without oxygen and heat. After recycling the waste, just 5% of the original waste volume is left, so-called "biochar", which on a week's cruise is the equivalent of one basket of laundry. The gas created during the process is also used as an energy source.

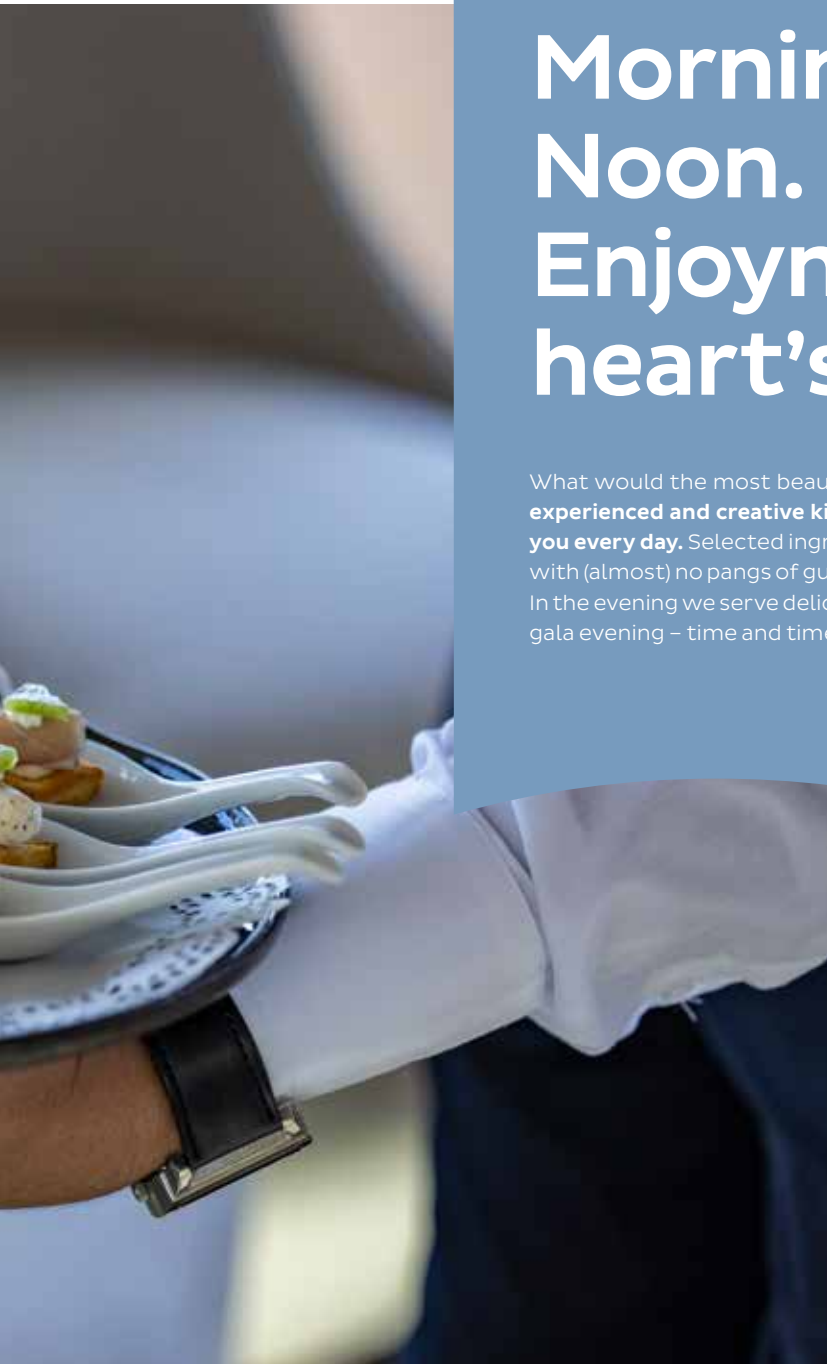

Start your day off the healthy way

Our promise to provide on board all the amenities of an excellent hotel on land naturally extends to the breakfast too. Whether it's Bircher muesli, the delicious avocado creme or famous eggs Benedict: this will give you a varied start to the day as well as plenty of energy. On top of the extensive buffet, your breakfast also includes juices and coffee specialities as well as delicious sweet and savoury dishes from the à-la-carte breakfast menu.

Morning. Noon. Evening. Enjoyment to your heart's content.

What would the most beautiful cruise be without proverbial culinary delights? Our experienced and creative kitchen crew prepares a variety of top-quality dishes for you every day. Selected ingredients and healthy preparation will give you indulgence with (almost) no pangs of guilt. Our balanced lunch buffet offers maximum flexibility. In the evening we serve delicious menus – and our kitchen team surpasses itself at the gala evening – time and time again!

Lunchtimes, as the mood takes you

At lunchtime, you can help yourself to the varied buffet, or have a light lunch served to you in comfort. Decide what works better for you on the day. In the Lido Café, international snacks, crisp salads and a selection of delicious ice cream flavours await. Our extended meal times in the main restaurant and our afternoon service on the Lido Deck mean it's not just up to you what you eat but also when.

Time to celebrate? Preferably every day!

A cruise on our WORLD VOYAGER is definitely a celebration. In the evening, we serve you consistent menus with a touch of creativity in a relaxed and elegant atmosphere. Feast, enjoy and let us spoil you. The festive gala dinner with the captain needs no further description – you can count on this being a highlight of your journey on board.

Enjoy all your meals as you wish surrounded by unique scenery and don't miss out on exciting views whilst you are eating. Relax during the day at the Lido Café by the pool on the Lido Deck and enjoy romantic evenings with unforgettable sunsets in the Al Fresco outdoor area at the restaurant.

Of course, the friendly service team will also be delighted to prepare any beverages to your personal taste. In the evening, enjoy elegant live music.

During the day, of course, we conveniently serve you all your beverages on the outside decks. Our cabin service is also happy to serve you in your cabin during our service hours. Your favourite spot? Everywhere on board!

On the following four pages, we will show you the most important details of our new vessel, WORLD VOYAGER.

Environmentally friendly propulsion, innovative stabilisers

Our WORLD VOYAGER has the latest ship propulsion technology. The diesel-electric hybrid drive developed by Rolls-Royce makes manoeuvring particularly environmentally friendly. For example, the captain can hold the ship in position using electricity only, with no need for an anchor. Modern marine technology also caters for the comfort of guests when they are at sea: in addition to the conventional fin stabilisers, WORLD VOYAGER also has innovative tank stabilisers.

Sporty & active on board!

For all guests who also want to stay active on the high seas, there is a running track in the outdoor area on Deck 8. The running track is 135 metres long in total – and you get a fantastic view too!

Floating hotel rooms. Expedition and Infinity cabins.

The modern and brightly decorated cabins are spread over three passenger decks. They offer all the comfort that you would expect from first-rate hotels on land. The panoramic fronts in the Infinity Cabins swiftly turn the window into a balcony at the touch of a button, and you don't even have to give up any space in your cabin.

Infinity Cabin with lowerable panoramic front

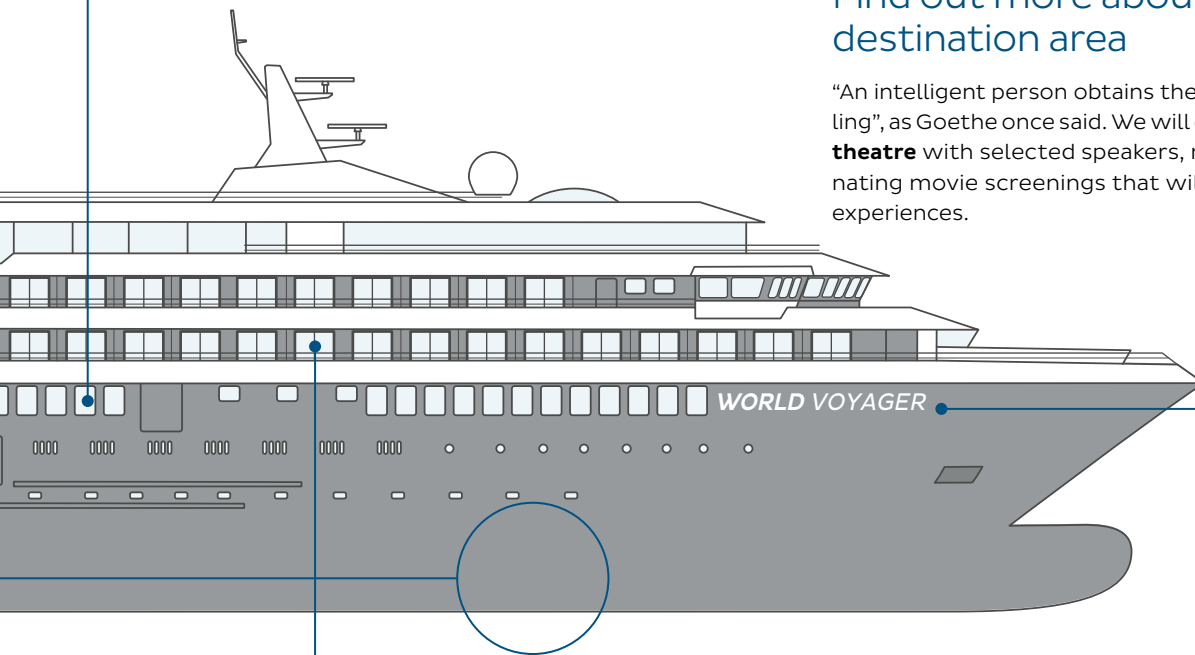

Welcome on board – your sense of well-being is our mission.

The spacious lobby flooded in light is one of the most important meeting places on your ship. Our dedicated colleagues at reception are at your disposal to answer any questions and concerns. This is where your nicko cruise director will welcome you and all your excursions will start from here. There is an exquisite selection of souvenirs in the shop as well as high-quality memorabilia for you and your loved ones at home.

Find out more about your destination area

“An intelligent person obtains the best education while travelling”, as Goethe once said. We will entertain you in the on-board theatre with selected speakers, renowned experts and fascinating movie screenings that will round off your destination experiences.

Veranda cabins and suites. Your private oasis with a balcony.

If you would like to enjoy great views in private, then the Veranda cabins are the best choice to fully enjoy your trip. You become the “audience” in your own breath-taking holiday film with a magnificent view whilst sitting on your private balcony. Could it get any more luxurious? Our Navigator, VIP and Explorer Suites offer a large balcony of about double the size.

Plenty of space out in the fresh air: all suites have a particularly spacious balcony

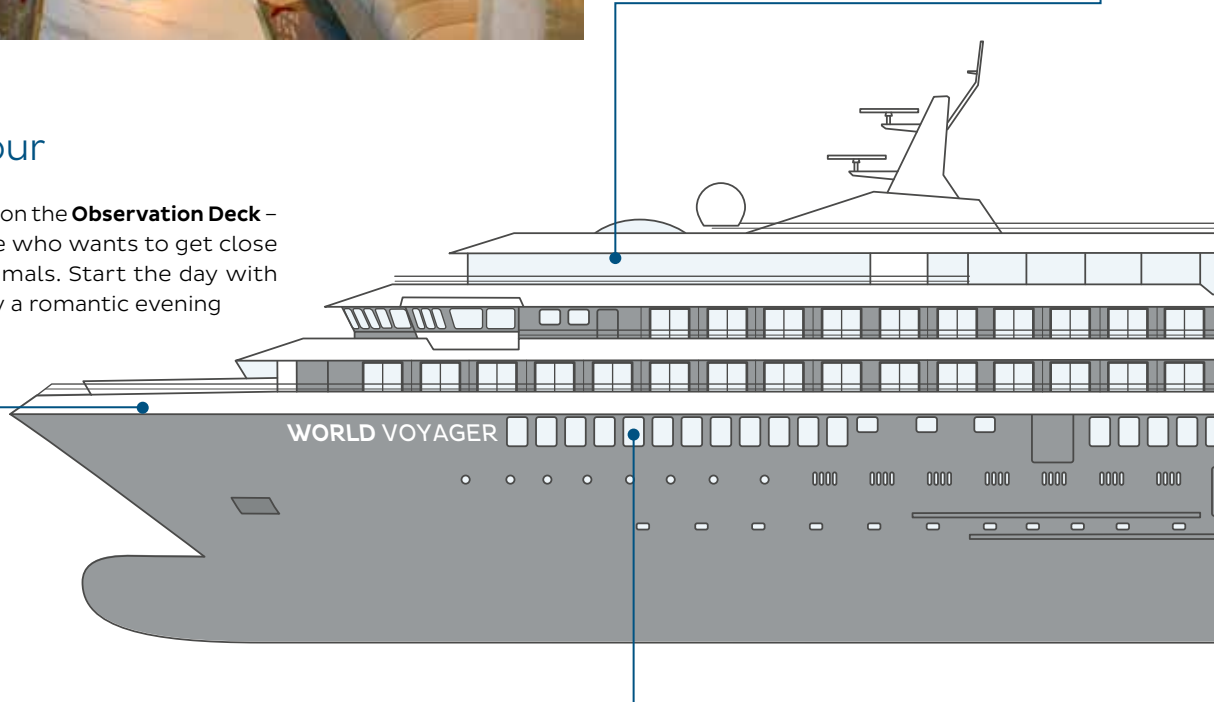

Best views with cool drinks

For a sundowner with breath-taking views, we heartily recommend the Observation Lounge on Deck 7: It is glazed all around and so you can enjoy the panorama in comfort as it passes you by. The large glass dome offers a fantastic view of the sky. Under the glass dome is the dance floor – for lively nights under the starry canopy.

Breath-taking tour

A particular highlight awaits on the Observation Deck – a favourite spot for anyone who wants to get close to nature and world of animals. Start the day with an amazing sunrise or enjoy a romantic evening sunset looking out to sea.

Meeting place for explorers. The Main Lounge.

After dinner, try Deck 4 for a drink in the Main Lounge. Here, you can relax in the evening to the gentle sound of a piano. A great place to swap notes with fellow travellers about the day's many experiences or just read a good book. Our lecturers also look forward to some stimulating conversations.

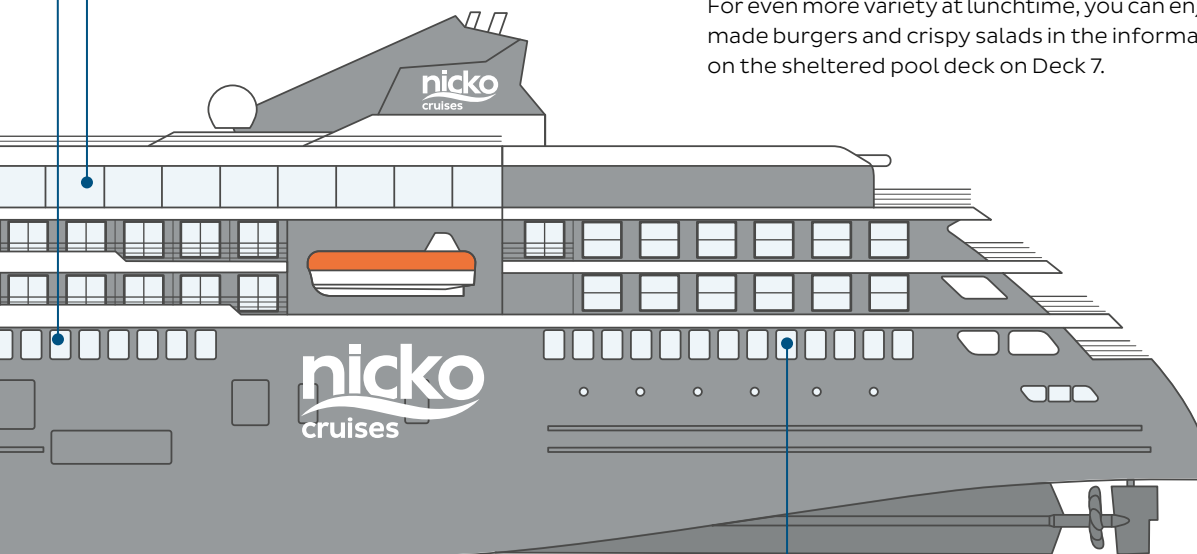

Spa and fitness – just how you like it

After a long day on land taking in all the sights and sounds, isn't a relaxing sauna session just the right thing for you? Welcome to our spacious spa area on Deck 4! The sauna with a sea view and resting area is a real oasis. You might want a pampering massage. Maybe relax in the pool or in the whirlpools. Our fitness room on Deck 4 waits you with a small but fine selection of state-of-the-art cardio equipment.

The Lido Café: casual fare

For even more variety at lunchtime, you can enjoy light meals, such as freshly made burgers and crispy salads in the informal Lido Café out in the fresh air on the sheltered pool deck on Deck 7.

A feast for your palate

In the cosy Mystic on-board restaurant, our kitchen crew will spoil you in the morning and at lunch time with a variety of buffets, and in the evening we serve you in style at your table generally with five-course menus that vary in theme depending on the destination. The international cuisine on board will surprise you with a feast of culinary highlights. Guests will have no trouble finding a comfortable table to suit them.

Holiday? But, of course!

For us, the safety of the guests and crew on board our ships always comes first – especially in these current times. Every day, we test out our safety and hygiene measures on all our ships so we know they work. Our proven measures meet national and international health standards.

We are currently following the “2G rule” on our cruises. This means that, as per the 2G rule, from the specified dates only fully vaccinated guests or guests who have recovered from COVID-19 may travel on our cruises. Children under 12 years are exempt from the 2G rule. However, they must present a negative PCR test taken no earlier than 72 hours prior to embarkation. We have summarised the key facts for you in our 10-point plan below. All up-to-date information is available to you on our web page at www.nicko-cruises.info/explore-safely.

1. Safety right from the start...

Even before the ship departs, your health is our priority: you will receive an infection protection questionnaire together with your travel documents, which you will need to complete, sign and bring with you on the day of embarkation.

On our ocean cruises on board WORLD VOYAGER we test all guests free of charge on embarkation. Only passengers with a negative test result are allowed to set sail with us.

2. ... and throughout the entire cruise

Two is better than one: in addition to checking the infection protection questionnaire and the negative COVID-19 test result upon embarkation, we also check your temperature every day on board using a contactless device – and we do this both for you and our crew members. This helps us ensure that everyone on board is as well protected as possible.

3. Well trained and well protected

You are in the best hands on board: the crew on board our ships is optimally prepared. All crew members have been fully trained in our additional hygiene and infection protection measures. Wearing medical masks and undergoing continual health checks are common practice for the crew.

4. Comprehensive hygiene and disinfection: just a matter of course for us

Hygiene is always number one priority on all nicko cruise ships. We have expanded our existing hygiene measures. All surfaces on board that are touched on a regular basis are continually cleaned and disinfected – in both the public areas and the cabins. For this, we use highly effective cleaning products and surface disinfectants, which are also effective against viruses. We also provide additional disinfectant dispensers on all ships, so that you can disinfect your hands at all the key contact points.

5. Enjoy your trip whilst maintaining sufficient distance

We make sure that you can maintain sufficient distance so you can travel safely. On our small ships, you will travel with a manageable number of like-minded people.

All procedures on board have been adapted so that the current distancing rules can be complied with. Anywhere where a minimum distance of 1.5 metres is not possible – for example in lifts, stairwells and on the jogging track – we ask all guests and crew members to protect each other by wearing a medical mask (OP mask or FFP2 mask).

6. Plenty of space in our bars and restaurants

On board our ships, there's plenty of space for you to enjoy yourselves: in our restaurants and bars, the tables and seats are placed at an ample distance away from each other, which means you can continue to eat and drink without hesitation and while away your evening with a cocktail or two.

7. We serve you – even at the buffet

Culinary highlights are part and parcel of every cruise. Let us spoil you! On board our ships, we will serve you delicious dishes from our menu straight to your table. Depending on the ship, it'll either be presented to you at the breakfast buffet by service staff or you will serve yourself using disposable gloves.

8. Safety first – on our shore excursions too

At nicko cruises, excursions are a key part of the cruise. To ensure you can enjoy beautiful cultural experiences and explore nature carefree in these times too, our excursions will take place in small groups. With our comfortable audio system, you can still maintain a safe distance throughout the shore excursion. Effective protection is also ensured by medical masks, which will be worn on the buses, and which are also regularly disinfected.

9. Sport and spa – open for you

Whether you want to do some sport or you just want to relax: with us, you can feel completely at home, because our fitness and spa areas on board are open for you. By registering in advance, we can also guarantee sufficient space for you in the fitness area and spa.

10. Together: with each other and for each other

We have devised our 10-point plan to ensure your safety on board. So that you can enjoy your holiday safely and fully, we ask that you take an active part in our safety and hygiene practices.

Caribbean & Central America

Beautiful white beaches and dense jungle

Caribbean and Pacific: two oceans linked by a monumental construction, the Panama canal. You can pass through this by day on several of our routes on board WORLD VOYAGER. A must for every cruise lover.

Pure exoticism awaits travellers in Central America. The advanced civilisation of the Mayas and the influence of the indigenous populations who live there in harmony with the dense rainforest make cruising in the region an unforgettable experience. Costa Rica consists predominantly of national parks, where sloths, jaguars, anteaters and hundreds of bird species can be seen up close. High up in the mountains of the Mayas in Mexico, Honduras and Guatemala, phenomenal buildings await, built by an advanced culture that is today almost inexplicable. The colonial history of Panama and Colombia is fascinating.

Cuba's history, on the other hand, has been keeping the world in suspense for decades. In time-honoured Havana, you can look deep into the soul of the Cubans: music, rhythm, serenity and cigars, of course. The Dominican Republic, with its dream beaches, is the gateway to the Caribbean. Picture-postcard motifs feature daily as you island hop from Barbados via Grenada to the ABC Islands. The unmistakable Caribbean lifestyle immediately sets in with every visitor.

CUBA

Cuban culture and revolution

Santiago de Cuba is nestled in a bay in the Caribbean Sea, surrounded by the mountains of Sierra Maestra. The city was built in 1515 by the Spanish and is well-known for its colonial buildings and history of revolution. The Plaza de Marte with its proud old buildings and the Plaza de Dolores with its churches and monuments are both worth a visit. The fortress Castillo de San Pedro de la Roca is also impressive. It was built into the steep cliff of a bay and is listed as a UNESCO World Heritage Site. The former capital city is also considered the cradle of Cuban culture. Musical traditions and the carnival originated in the second largest city in the country and spread from there.

Route K7

Lively capital city

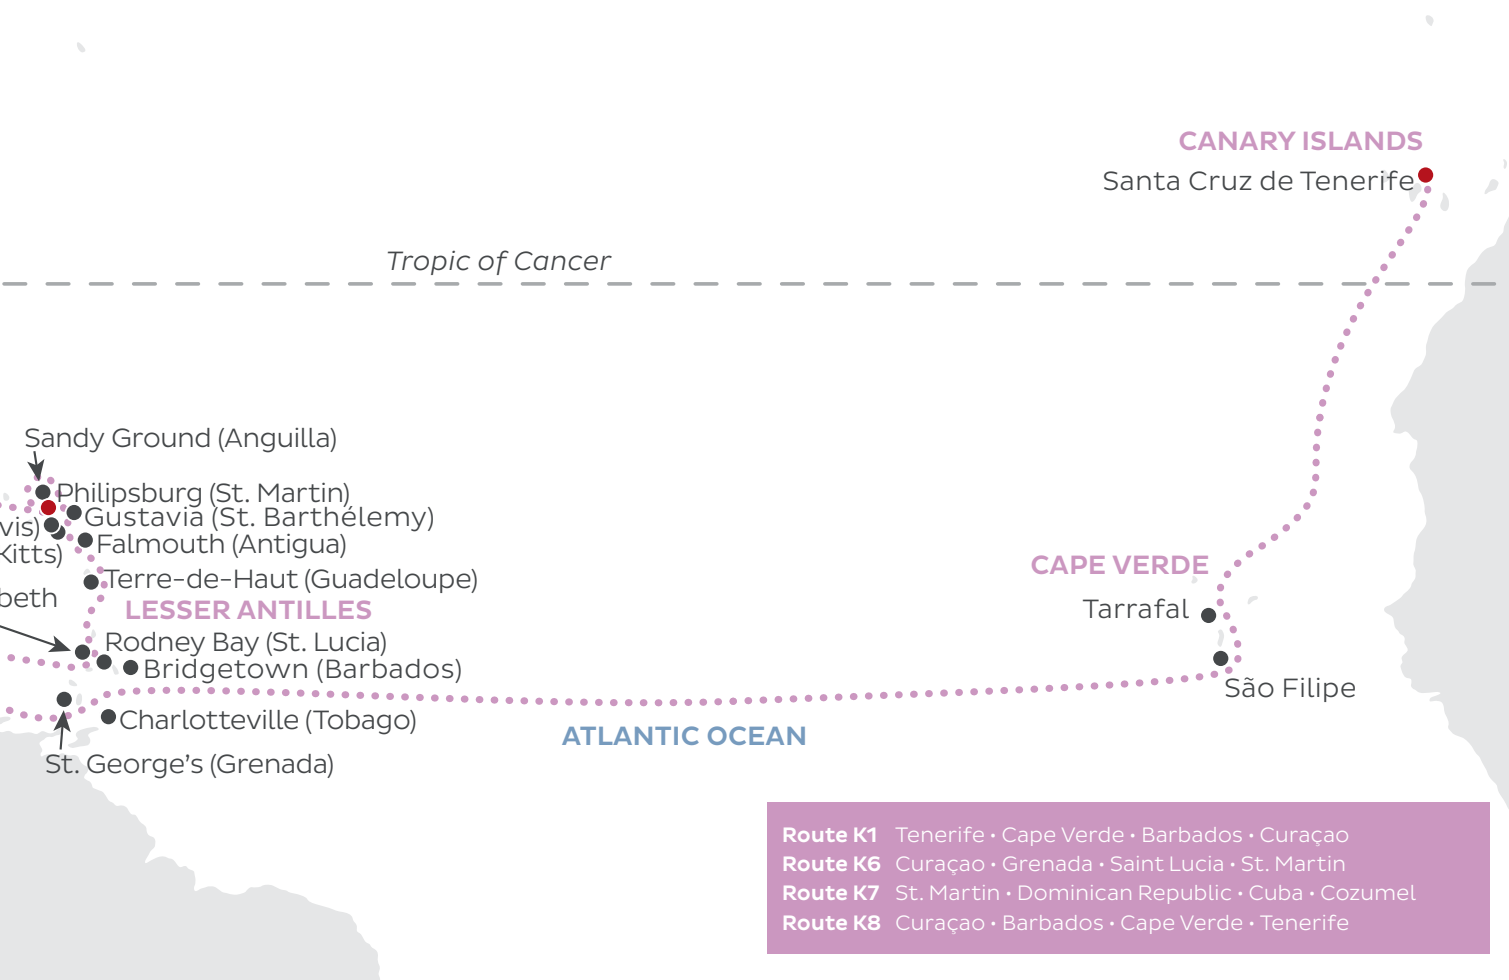

Nowhere is the journey in a vintage car through the time-honoured streets and along the coast so impressive as it is in Cuba's capital city Havana. From old leather seats, you will see the city from another perspective. In Havana, experience the largest preserved colonial old town in Latin America, which has been a UNESCO World Heritage Site since 1982. The visit to a dance class, where you will get to know the Cuban spirit, is also a thrilling experience. In the tracks of Ernest Hemingway, you will be able to visit his Finca, located on a hill and flanked by trees and plants. The view of Havana and the sea is stunning. The Nobel Prize winner for Literature lived in Cuba from 1939 to 1961. His novel "The Old Man and the Sea" was one of those he wrote there.

Route K7

Havana

CARIBBEAN

Spice island with dream beaches

On the spice island of Grenada there is an abundance of blossom: it's mostly nutmeg, but cinnamon, ginger and cloves also thrive on its fertile ground. Rivers, lakes and waterfalls emerge in the middle of the thick rainforest. Soft, lush green hills extend right down to the beautiful white beaches on the coast. This volcano island belonging to the Lesser Antilles is a real natural paradise!

Route K1 • K6 • K8

British colonial history

Barbados is one of the few Caribbean islands not formed from a volcano; instead, it has flourished on corals and limestone. For the British colonies, this chalky soil made it the ideal place to cultivate sugar cane and produce rum. To this day, these fields are what characterises the landscape of this eastern Caribbean island. The British also brought many slaves to the island, whose ancestors make up 90% of the population today, giving island life a colourful, African-like joy for life. Barbados' capital city Bridgetown will inspire you with its colonial architecture, which is listed as a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

Barbados

Holiday dreams in the Caribbean Sea

The ABC Islands are typical Caribbean islands – in the best sense: white, fine sandy beaches, turquoise-blue sea and green palm trees that sway in the gentle breeze. Despite this, Aruba, Bonaire and Curaçao all belong politically to the Netherlands and have taken on European architecture and traditions. Curaçao's capital city Willemstad looks like Amsterdam dipped in paint pots and has been a UNESCO World Heritage Site since 1997. Aruba captivates with its rich underwater world full of different species. On Bonaire, flamingos, parrots and iguanas cavort and dart around. And with warm temperatures the whole year round – what could be better? Route K1 • K2 • K5 • K6 • K8

Magnificent panoramic view

Port Elizabeth on the island of Bequia is part of the St. Vincent and the Grenadines nation and is situated in the turquoise-blue Admiralty Bay. In this bay you will find the picturesque ruins from the Hamilton Battery dating from the late 18th century. From the terraces, you have a beautiful panorama over the island with its beautiful beaches. St. Mary's Church was built in 1829 using local limestone and building material from the ballast stones of sailing ships. Route K1 • K6 • K8

CAPE VERDE

An island state in the Portuguese style

The island of Fogo rises murkily from the Atlantic. The volcano Pico do Fogo formed the island, giving it its near black colour. Covered by barren lava fields, there are only sporadic bits of green poking through the stone-covered ground. Despite this – or perhaps even because of this – the island will captivate you from the very first moment you see it. In the capital city São Filipe, you will still find some well-preserved Sobrados, Portuguese manor houses from the colonial period. Ribeira Brava, the capital city of the São Nicolau Island, is a lovely little town with just 2,000 locals, small parks and Portuguese architecture. The island's gentle hill is perfect for hiking. Route K1 • K8

CENTRAL AMERICA

Advanced civilisation in Central America

 The Mayan culture spread throughout parts of Mexico, Belize, Guatemala and Honduras. The imposing buildings still give a hint of the power of the Mayan civilisation to this very day. The UNESCO World Heritage Sites of Chichén-Itzá in Mexico, Quiriguá in Guatemala and Copán in Honduras are outstanding. They originate from three different eras and so in their own way, each site shows something of the life and beliefs of their former inhabitants. Route K4 • K5

NICARAGUA

Colonial history and volcanoes

On the west coast of Nicaragua is the second largest freshwater lake in Latin America with over 400 islands: Lake Nicaragua. One of the islands, Ometepe, was formed out of two volcanoes, which rise up to over 1,600 metres in height. The lake is abundant in fish and other species; it even has sharks that swim among the cichlids and caimans. On the northwestern shore lies the colonial city of Granada. Numerous brightly coloured, Spanish-style houses line the streets and the grand, sunshine yellow cathedral towers over the city centre. Route K3

Maya stelae in Quiriguá

COSTA RICA

Natural paradise on water and on land

The Manuel Antonio National Park extends along the wonderful Pacific coast of Costa Rica. White sandy beaches are lined by dense jungle. The National Park is home to numerous animals, including the squirrel and Capuchin monkeys, iguanas, anteaters and – on the beaches – the blue land crab. Hiking paths wind their way through the hilly area and you can frequently see the sea shining through the dense green of the palm trees.

Route K2 • K3

Sloths in the Manuel Antonio National Park

The turtle island

Off the coast of Costa Rica is the tropical Island of Tortuga. This uninhabited island is visited every year by turtles from the Galapagos Islands. This is where they come to lay their eggs, which is why it was given the name “Tortuga”, meaning turtle. Visitors are welcome but must leave the island in the evening in order to protect its animal inhabitants. The wonderful beaches are perfect for a spot of swimming, snorkelling and relaxing.

Route K2 • K3

Costa Rica, Isla Tortuga

Intensive jungle experience

The densely overgrown Veragua Rainforest on Costa Rica is an experience! The tour starts with a boat tour on the Tortuguero Canal, the “Amazon of Costa Rica”, where you will find crocodiles, jaguars and over 300 different types of bird species to admire. Afterwards, you will float in comfortable gondolas through the treetops, a veritable playground for monkeys, sloths, snakes and iguanas. You will finish with a short hike to the Puma Waterfall and a visit to the research station based at the University of Costa Rica. A day you will never forget!

Route K4 • K5

Red-eyed tree frog in the Veragua Rainforest

PANAMA

A construction project of the century

This unique masterpiece of engineering took 33 years to build. Due to the rocky subsoil, the original plans for the Panama Canal had to be abandoned and instead, it was built on a small elevation. There are 26 metres between sea level and the highest point of the site, a difference in altitude that ships overcome using a series of sluices. On the Pacific side in Panama City you will find the impressive Miraflores Locks. From the viewing platform, you can see from close up how the huge freight ships feel their way through the narrow lock gates.

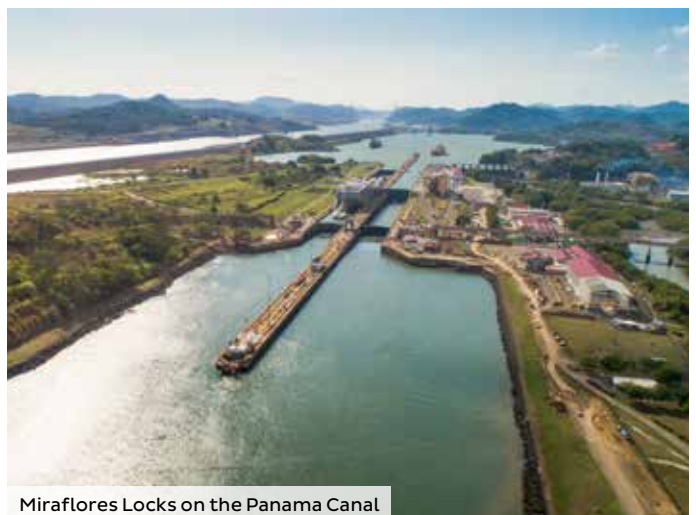

Route K2 • K4

South America's Garden of Eden

One of the largest and most beautiful national parks in Central America extends across Eastern Panama: the Darién National Park. Over thousands of square kilometres, it covers sandy beaches and stone cliffs on the Pacific coast, mangrove forests and marshes as well as plateaus overgrown with rainforest on the Columbian border. UNESCO recognised the park as a biosphere reserve and World Heritage Site in order to preserve the tremendous diversity of animals and plants in the region. The Park is still home to two Indian tribes, the Emberá and the Kuna, who settled in the region 500 years ago.

Route K4

Miraflores Locks on the Panama Canal

Tropical island archipelago

Along the coast of Panama you will find hundreds of little islands, each one even more beautiful than the last. White sandy beaches, lapped by the turquoise blue sea, and coconut trees that give you shade: the ultimate dream holiday! The archipelago San Blas Islands in the Caribbean Sea and Pearl Islands in the Pacific stand out in particular. A colourful underwater world is perfect for diving and snorkelling, whilst on the shore, island visitors can look forward to relaxing afternoons spent on the beach.

Route K2 • K4

Panama, San Blas Islands

COLOMBIA

The pearl of the Caribbean

The most beautiful colonial city in Columbia, many might even say in the whole of South America, is situated on the coast of the Caribbean Sea. Cartagena has a wealth of little, colourful houses, with balconies filled with fragrant bougainvillea and beautiful blossoming hibiscus. And rising up in between them all is the imposing Roman Catholic cathedral. The whole of its old town and the adjacent fortress San Felipe were listed as a UNESCO World Heritage Site in 1984. The Tierra de Bomba Island is situated in the Bay of Cartagena and is best admired on a boat trip.

Route K2 • K5

Cartagena

The pirate island

The Island of San Andrés in the Caribbean Sea has a turbulent past. The British, Spanish and Dutch have all ruled the island at one time or another. But pirates were the real rulers and used this strategically well-positioned island for their raids. The "Cave of Morgan", named after the buccaneer Sir Henry Morgan, is where he is supposed to have hidden the spoils of his tours from enemies and the Spanish as well as the British crown. Today, the island is a popular travel destination featuring vast impressive coral reefs along its coast.

World of islands in the Atlantic

Wild volcanoes and picturesque ports

Unparalleled variety awaits in the Atlantic Ocean: the Flower Island of Madeira and the Canary Islands captivate people with the consistently good weather and the contrast between colourful plant varieties, imposing volcanic landscapes and sprawling dunes. It's always summer on Cape Verde. These islands beguile their guests with their unmistakable blend of smells, sounds, landscapes and people. Nine inhabited islands – each one with its own highlights – invite you to enjoy varied island hopping.

One travel destination that, just like Cape Verde, has not yet been gripped by tourism is the Azores. This archipelago also features plenty of variety: the secluded location has allowed a real natural paradise to emerge with steep cliffs, volcano lakes, densely overgrown green hills and many unique animal species.

The Atlantic coast is also just as worthy of a detour as the islands. Casablanca and Safi welcome you with exotic markets and the unique Moroccan architecture. Around the African capital cities of Dakar and Banjul, you will see crocodiles and other wild animals in their natural habitat.

CANARY ISLANDS

Island of contrasts

The second smallest Canary Island, La Gomera, is green and fertile due to the trade winds in the north and is perfect for hiking. The Garajonay National Park in particular is a popular excursion destination and was declared a UNESCO World Heritage Site. A circular hiking trail leads you through the mystical cloud forest to beautiful viewpoints and the tiny mountain village of Las Hayas. From Vallehermoso you will get a fantastic panoramic view of the hilly green countryside and the sea behind it. In the south, sun worshippers really get their money's worth; with a mostly cloudless sky and sandy beaches, it is the perfect spot for a bit of relaxation. San Sebastián is the capital city of the small island with large plazas, where locals meet to exchange news and where children play. Christopher Columbus was said to have once replenished his water supplies at the fountain of the former customs house.

Route T3 • T4

Mountain world meets sandy beaches

Maspalomas in the south of Gran Canaria will surprise you with its sweeping sand dunes which are six kilometres long and up to two kilometres wide: an intact nature reserve, surrounded by a diverse mountain world. Just a stone's throw away from the bustling capital city of Las Palmas is Bandama Natural Park. Stroll through the vineyards of Tafira up to the crater of the Caldera de Bandama. The cone can be seen from quite a distance and offers a wonderful panoramic view from its peak. The island's capital city is not just perfect for a stroll through the old town, it also has a sandy beach "Las Canteras" stretching for several miles across the whole bay.

Route T4

Black volcanic rock & cacti

Timanfaya National Park on the island of Lanzarote offers a unique experience of nature. You will see huge lava fields and look into deep lava valleys, from which volcanic cones protrude. This lava landscape is unique in Europe. During your journey through the fields and valleys up to the edge of open volcanic craters you will feel the rising heat from the earth. The wonderful cacti garden of the artist César Manrique is laid out like an amphitheatre. Over around 5,000 square metres, you will find 1,400 different types of cacti. The green plants, the blue sky and the black volcano stone provide a unique colour contrast. A place where art, architecture and nature come together in perfect harmony.

“La Isla Bonita”

La Palma, the fifth largest of the Canary Islands, will impress you with its rustic rocks, laurel forests, roaring waterfalls and fantastic volcanoes, such as the Teneguía, and the volcano ridge Cumbre Vieja. Go on a hike through the Caldera de Taburiente National Park along the edge of the crater and enjoy the view of the neighbouring islands. The green island is just 417 kilometres away from the Moroccan coast and the climate is mild all year round. The island capital city of Santa Cruz de la Palma on the east coast invites you to take a stroll through its narrow lanes past the historic colonial houses. Cafés and restaurants offer homemade tapas and wine. The locals also call the island “La Isla Bonita” – the beautiful island.

The green island in the north

Santo Antão is a paradise for hikers. Start your exploration in the main town of Porto Novo: Colourful fishing boats, children skipping and playing, shared taxis vying for passengers, women selling goat's cheese and liquor when the ferries dock. Are you attracted by the contrasting north with its rugged mountains, spectacular views, deep canyons and terraced fields? Follow the arduous path taken by the farmers' wives from the mountains into the fertile Vale do Paúl valley, where dragon trees and figs are growing. Or does the "wild west" appeal, which you can get to off road in a Jeep? Whatever you decide, Santo Antão is a brilliant start to our Cape Verde cruise.

Route T2

The most beautiful beach in the country

The island of Sal is a picture-book holiday island. Here the sun shines 350 days a year, attracting more than just windsurfers, divers and sun worshippers. "Sal" means "salt" and Pedra de Lume is a disused salt mine where you can still enjoy a salt water bath nowadays. We take you ashore at the small harbour city of Palmeira. Ponta Preta is especially popular with (wind)surfers because, depending on the air movement, this is where you will find the best and fastest waves in the world. You can feel the adrenalin just watching them. Buracona is a natural seawater basin with a special colour effect: light shines blue through a hole in a lava tongue. The highlight of the island is the fine sand of the city beach in Santa Maria, Cape Verde's most important tourist resort. Nightlife, souvenir shops, bars, cafés – there's always something going on here.

Route T2

Desert landscapes

Boa Vista is holiday island number two. Fans of the desert will be thrilled. The point of departure for our excursions is the small but colourful harbour city of Sal Rei ("Salt King"). The church, cultural centre and market can be explored on foot. The fine sandy beach of Praia de Santa Mónica, a good 18 km long, is named after the Californian city of Santa Monica. Only the current thwarts swimming. The sandy desert Deserto de Viana is also impressive. In 1968, a freighter ran aground off the north coast; the shipwreck is now a well-known photo motif. Back in Sal Rei, your gaze will be drawn upstream to the island of Ilhéu de Sal Rei, a place that attracts sea kayakers with its column-like basalt formations.

Route T2

Handmade craftsmanship on Boa Vista

Musical sounds of Cape Verde

Dream Santa Maria beach on Sal

Where it all began

The capital city of Praia on Santiago is where European and African influences merge. Here, you see what “creol” means and you can feel the African influence of the mainland in the markets. In the Mercado Municipal your palate will truly get its money’s worth: papayas, mangoes, guavas, sweet potatoes and many other exotic fruits are peddled by women with colourful headscarves. At the presidential palace, on the other hand, you are not allowed to take any photos at all. To understand Cabo Verde, you also need to visit Cidade Velha; the old town with houses dating back to the 15th and 16th century is a UNESCO World Heritage Site. But Santiago’s countryside has something to offer here too: mountain ranges up to 1,394 metres, the fertile Assomada plain, sandy beaches, coconut trees as well as sugarcane and banana plantations. Route T2

SENEGAL

In the capital city of Senegal

Dakar is the most westerly city on the African mainland, yet it is also the country’s economic centre. Stroll through the historical old town and you cannot help but be amazed: magnificent buildings from the colonial period, quaint markets, a cathedral and a large mosque. An excursion to the Île de Gorée, a UNESCO World Heritage Site, is a programme of contrasts where you will learn all about the dark period of the slave trade. If you love observing animals, you can look forward to seeing rhinos, giraffes and gazelles in the Bandia Reserve. If you would rather go for a swim in the Atlantic, there are beaches close to the city where you can do that too. Route T2

GAMBIA

African discoveries

Even though Gambia is Africa’s smallest country, it still showcases the abundance of what this exotic continent has to offer. In the capital city of Banjul is the colourful hustle and bustle of the market. Clothing, craftsmanship and local delicacies are on sale – and trading is explicitly welcomed! If you like the quieter side of life, follow the course of the mighty Gambia River and use the day to go bird and animal watching. In the south of the country, you get to know the daily life of the Gambian people – their history, culture and traditions. Route T2

MOROCCO

Moorish style meets art deco

The word Casablanca means “The White House”, but it has become a white city. This harbour city is the largest city in Morocco with more than three million inhabitants. Founded in the 8th century, this settlement has always been disputed. Portuguese, Spaniards and French joined its inhabitants. The cityscape is dominated by the great Hassan II mosque with space for 25,000 faithful worshippers and a minaret of 210 metres in height, the tallest of its kind in the Islamic world. The city is also home to Moroccan Jews, who run over 300 synagogues. The bustling Boulevard de la Corniche runs along the coast. Rabat, its neighbour on the Atlantic coast, is the seat of the government and the king’s residence. Rabat has been a UNESCO World Heritage Site since 2012.

Route T1 • T4

Casablanca, Hassan II mosque

Oriental magic

From the harbour city of Safi, the route leads you to Marrakesh. Here, you will find mosques, labyrinthine lanes through the medina, magical palaces, secret gardens and bustling souks. The medina sells traditional clothing, pottery, wood carvings and jewellery. On the central square Djemaa el Fna, donkey carts and mopeds make their way between food stalls. Artists, fortune tellers and snake charmers hope to arouse your curiosity. It evokes oriental magic like something out of a fairy tale. In addition, the UNESCO city also has its elegant side with mosaics, decorated wooden portals and spring fountains in quiet inner courtyards.

MADEIRA (PORTUGAL)

The Flower Island in the Atlantic

Madeira will surprise you with its diverse and breath-taking countryside. Picturesque fishing villages, fantastic views of the steep coasts over bizarre rock formations and roaring waterfalls set the scene. The island's capital city of Funchal offers sights including the Sé Cathedral and the market hall, where you can buy everything from exotic fruits to colourful flowers and fresh fish. In the Jardim Botânico, the botanical gardens, you will find not only a multiplicity of exotic plants but also be able to enjoy a beautiful view across the island. Route T1 • T4 • T5 • T6

THE AZORES

The Islands of the Hawks

Situated almost halfway to the American mainland are the Azores. First discovered in the early 15th century by Portuguese seafarers, these islands belong to Portugal. They named the archipelago "Ilhas dos Açores", Islands of the Hawks. It later transpired that they are actually buzzards living on the Azores. Nevertheless, the name stuck. The Azores are a paradise for nature lovers. As well as the numerous hydrangeas that have found the ideal habitat on the volcanic soil, you will find numerous endemic plants and animals. With a little luck, you will see the Azores noctule or Monteiro's storm petrels. Route T5 • T6

Culinary highlights

São Miguel is the largest of the nine Azores and its special climate even allows for the cultivation of tea in Europe's only plantation. On the island, formed from volcanoes, you can admire waterfalls and crater lakes. A special feature of the local cuisine is the preparation of dishes on the hot volcanic steam, like the exquisite Cozido, a traditional stew. Route T5 • T6

European seafaring history

On Terceira you will experience an exciting blend of volcanic landscapes, fantastic bathing bays and little Portuguese towns. The colourful capital of the island, Angra do Heroísmo, was listed as a UNESCO World Heritage Site due to its extraordinary role in maritime trade between the Old and the New World. Route T5 • T6

The island of Pico is dominated by the over 2,300-metre-high volcano Ponta do Pico. The volcano, which is still active, is also Portugal's highest mountain. It formed the island over 250,000 years ago, blessing it with fertile volcanic soil, on which excellent wine is grown. The island's viticulture was listed as a UNESCO World Heritage Site in 2004. The coasts of Pico are world-famous for whale watching. Here, dolphins, pilot whales and even sperm whales cavort around, welcoming visitors. Route T5 • T6

The maritime city of Honfleur will delight you! Located at the estuary of the Seine, it is characterised by its picturesque houses and is one of the most charming places along the 32 kilometre-long Côte Fleurie, the “flower coast”, between Honfleur and Cabourg. Renoir, Cézanne and other painters set up their easels here, and the composer Erik Satie was born here in 1866. The late gothic Saint Catherine's church, which has a free-standing wooden bell tower dating back to 1468, is also worth a visit.

The fortified city in the sea

On the way to Saint-Malo you will see the massive fortress that dominated the history of the city in Brittany. The old town extends like a peninsula into the Atlantic and the city centre is surrounded by the massive defensive walls of the citadel. Near to Saint-Malo is the impressive, towering World Heritage Site of Mont-Saint-Michel. This “pointed finger of an angel” with its monastery is an absolute must-see attraction.

The Breton Le Palais is a mini town that is located close to the harbour. It is also the capital of the French Atlantic island of Belle-Île. Karl IX had a citadel built here in 1572, which later served as a prison and barracks. Since 1961, the building has housed the regional museum. With its pretty interiors and colourful stained glass windows, the Saint-Gérard church is an impressive sight. The island town is delightful to photograph from the ship.

Le Palais

The home of great wines

Bordeaux is the economic, cultural and spiritual centre of the French southwest. The Garonne river flows through this wonderful city and makes for wonderful walks along its winding banks. The city is surrounded by an enchanting wine-growing region. It is located on the southern edge of the temperate climate zone with mild winters and long summers. The old town of Bordeaux is listed as a UNESCO World Heritage Site. The monumental buildings are particularly striking, above all the impressive Bordeaux Cathedral (Cathedrale Saint-André) with its façade and sculptural decoration. Also worth visiting is the imposing Place de la Bourse with its Fountain of Three Graces in the middle and the “Miroir d'eau”, which sits opposite with its fascinating mirror and water effects. Route E2

SPAIN

The oldest lighthouse in the world

Welcome to A Coruña, Galicia. The network of Roman roads and the medieval squares and churches are testament to the city's long history. The Tower of Hercules (Torre de Hércules), the oldest working lighthouse in the world and a UNESCO World Heritage Site, flashes by the port. Gallery houses on the harbour are striking sights with their glazed, wooden balconies typical of Galicia. When the sun shines on the Galerías and the glass sparkles, you know where A Coruña's nickname “City of Glass” comes from. On the pier stands the handsome Castillo de San Antón, which dates back to the 16th century. You can view the astonishing works of Goya in the Museo de Belas Artes. The 13 kilometre-long seafront promenade, which is great for walks, is also impressive. Route E2

A Coruña, Tower of Hercules

In Pablo Picasso's footsteps

Málaga on the Costa del Sol developed into a port and a resort over the course of the centuries. The Alcazaba, the city wall, and the ruins of the Castillo de Gibralfaro come towering out of the cityscape. These have their origins in the era of the Moorish occupation. The largest church is the renaissance cathedral. Its nickname is “La Manquita”, the one-armed. Its second tower was never completed. The most famous child of Málaga is the famous painter and graphic artist Pablo Picasso. His heirs donated more than 200 of his works to the city. The small streets with their cafes and boutiques in the old town area are a wonderful setting for a stroll. Route E1

View to Málaga

Islamic architecture

The massive and magnificent city castle, the Alhambra, sprawls over Sabikah Hill above Granada. In front of it lies the remarkable Generalife Summer Palace. Alhambra means “red castle”, referring to the reddish outer walls. This “city in a city” was already being modified as early as the 9th century and it has been changed extensively over the centuries. The Castle Hill was already inhabited as an upper town in pre-Roman times. It rose to splendour during the reign of the caliphate, when Moorish rulers dominated southern Spain. In 1492, the Catholic Monarchs recaptured the region and protected the Alhambra with a towered city wall. The Alhambra, with its magnificent palaces, gardens and countless beautiful fountains, has been a UNESCO World Heritage Site since 1984.

Route E1

A splash of colour and more

Paella, the world’s most famous rice dish, was invented in Valencia. Today the city is a popular travel destination. The impressive Cathedral, home of the Holy Grail, rises up between the narrow lanes of the old town. The Museo Bellas Artes (Museum of Fine Arts) stands out among the many museums in the city. In contrast to this is the Ciutat de les Arts i les Ciències – the futuristic buildings of the science park make it look as if spaceships have landed in the former river bed of the Turia.

Route E1

Rhythm and castanets

Seville, the capital of Andalusia, features dominant Moorish and Spanish architecture. It is considered the cradle of the rhythmic flamenco – a fusion of song, music and passionate dance movements. The only navigable Spanish river, the Guadalquivir, flows through Seville. It is only passable for small ships like our WORLD VOYAGER – an extraordinary cruise experience. Throughout history, the Guadalquivir has often played a crucial role. It has protected the locals from besieging conquerors, many of the battles being fought on the water. In the 16th century, the city was the most important trading centre in Western Europe. Life and commerce on the river water shaped the cityscape. One landmark is the Torre del Oro, a tower built by the Arabs. The Seville Cathedral, the Alcazar and the Archivo de Indias have been listed as a UNESCO World Heritage Site since 1987.

Seville

Formentera

Spanish exclave

On the southern coast of the Straits of Gibraltar is the Spanish exclave of Ceuta. Even Greeks and Carthaginians have lived and traded on the site of this modern city, which has belonged to Spain for over 350 years. Ceuta is home to some of most important sights, such as the royal fortress or the Casa de los Dragones, the House of Dragons, an eccentric mix of styles in the centre of the city.

Route E1

BALEARIC ISLANDS

An old town with charm

Dalt Vila, the name for the historical old town of Ibiza Town, features the gothic Santa María Cathedral and a fortress from the renaissance period. Both are UNESCO World Heritage Sites. The imposing entrance to the old town leads from the port out over a drawbridge, past massive walls and to statues from the Roman times. Winding alleyways alternate with the city wall, which can be reached via steps, with the best vantage points. Mysterious: you only see the nuns from the Sant Cristòfol Monastery when they are selling their homemade biscuits.

Route E1

The beauty of the Balearic Islands

Formentera is the smallest of the inhabited Balearic Islands and has retained its original charm. Its two lakes between the main towns of La Savina and Es Pujols with their lively cafes and shops are complemented by a headland with sandy beaches of graceful beauty. In the south, the Cap de Barbaria offers a magnificent view of the island and the sea.

Route E1

Ibiza Town

BELGIUM

Attractive medieval heritage

The city in West Flanders shows off Belgium's proud merchant tradition. The textile trade started here in the late Middle Ages, eventually leading to long-distance trade. Bruges became one of the most culturally rich cities in Europe. The city can be explored on foot, passing windmills and canals. The medieval cityscape has been preserved and is a UNESCO World Heritage Site. An "ampoule containing the blood of Christ" is kept in the Basilica of the Holy Blood. The "Grote Markt" is one of Belgium's prettiest squares, and no new building is allowed to tower above the 83 metre-high belfry tower.

Route E2

Belgian harbour city

The cosy little town of Ostend on the Belgian North Sea coast is characterised by its port and strategically important location. You simply have to visit the Zeilschip, a sailing ship from the 1930s, which has sailed around the whole world and now became a museum ship. Fort Napoléon and the open-air museum Raversyde give some insight into the military history of Ostend. The small old town, meanwhile, is a great place to amble around – how about some typical Belgian waffles or vlaamse frites, the famous Belgian chips? Above the houses, the impressive St. Peter and Paul Church, with its colourful glass windows, is visible from far afield.

Up close in the Arctic on the ideal ship

Due to the WORLD VOYAGER's small size, our expedition ship can easily navigate through narrow fjord landscapes and into the icy regions of the Arctic. It also benefits from ice class 1B and polar class C, so it can safely navigate all the oceans. 12 on-board Zodiacs (robust, motorised, inflatable boats) are available for landings and trips out.

Come with us on our expeditions and explore unique places on our exclusive cruises with a maximum of 176 guests. In order to make your polar expedition even more comfortable, we have complimentary warm parka jackets and rubber boots available to lend out during your cruise.

A real expedition with the right team

Being prepared for the unexpected has always been part and parcel of our expedition trips. If you travel to far-flung regions, the itinerary is bound by the sea, the ice and the weather – these three factors determine the route! This is why our expedition trips are accompanied by an experienced expedition and Zodiac team. The captain works with the team to plan and organise the Zodiac trips and landings in the destination area.

They are also on hand to share their expertise with you on the geography, flora and fauna of each respective region. During the cruise, there are always entertaining and exciting lectures, talks and panel discussions taking place with lecturers and team experts.

NORWAY

A city with a living history

Bergen combines over 900 years of history with the youthful ambiance of a student city. With its seven mountains, the bays and peninsulas, Bergen was once a centre of the Hanseatic League. Traces of its past can still be found today – the most significant in the old Bryggen merchant quarter, which is listed as a UNESCO World Heritage Site. Here you walk on boards through the labyrinth of closely built offices and warehouses with their beams and cornices. At the Torget fish market, vendors sell fresh produce and in the Hanseatic Museum you can admire historical exhibits in the glow of gas lanterns.

Route N1 • N2

Pearl of the Norwegian fjords

The route to Geiranger takes you through the 15 kilometre-long legendary Geirangerfjord. As water cascades off vertical walls, misty veils form over the craggy cliffs. Take a closer look – legend has it they are spirits wishing to marry. Huge mountains, up to 1,500 metres high, rise up on both banks. The summits are covered in snow, but the green of valleys light up the lower parts of the mountain. Some of the mountain farms can only be reached by ladder.

Route N1 • N2

Islands in the North Sea

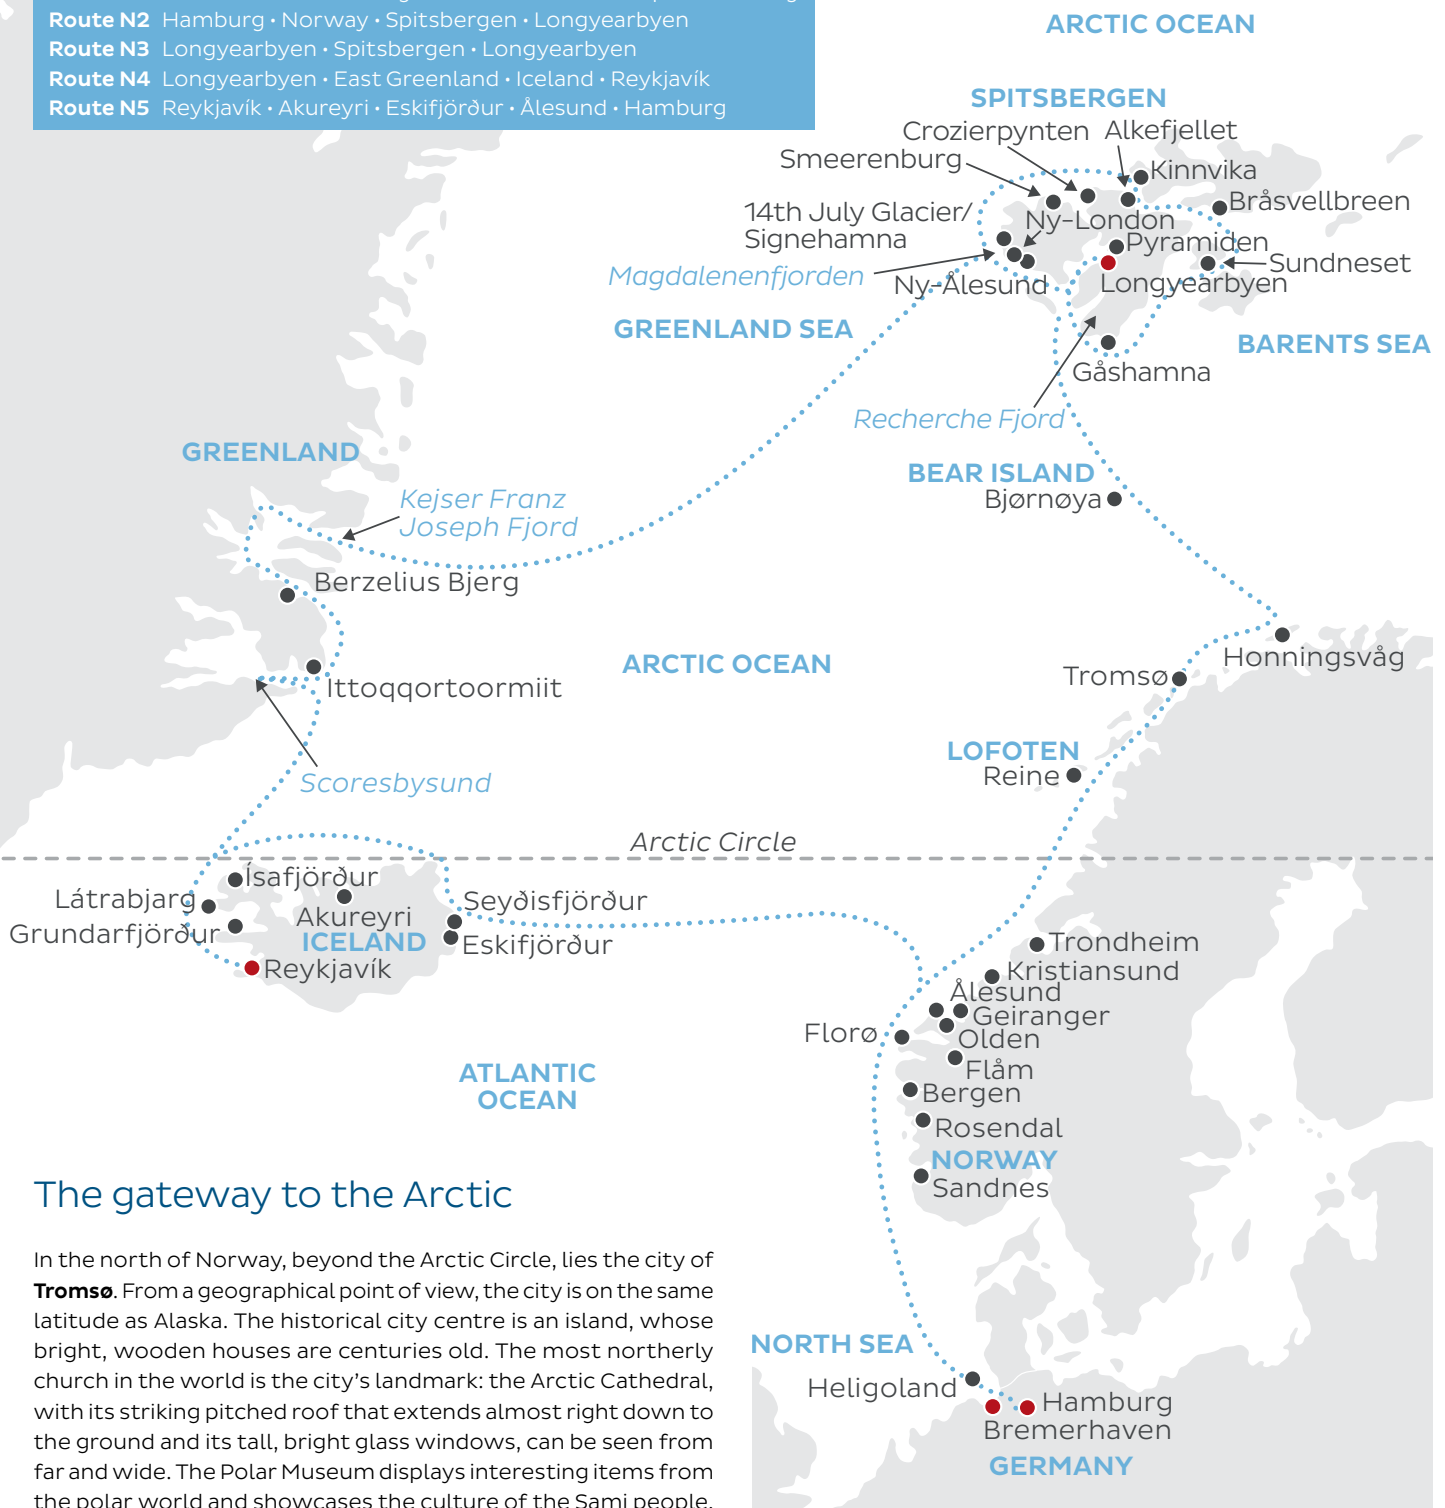

According to legend, the god Thor piled stone on top of stone to have a better view. This is how the Lofoten Islands were created off the Norwegian coast. You will smell the fish before you see them in the picturesque Reine. Cod is hung up to dry in front of the 'Rorbuer', the red wooden huts. There are also thousand-metre-high mountains, gently rolling hills and deep forests, raging rivers and tranquil mountain lakes. You might see whales emerging from the sea or catch a glimpse of elk, which outnumber humans on the five Lofoten Islands.

The gateway to the Arctic

In the north of Norway, beyond the Arctic Circle, lies the city of Tromsø. From a geographical point of view, the city is on the same latitude as Alaska. The historical city centre is an island, whose bright, wooden houses are centuries old. The most northerly church in the world is the city's landmark: the Arctic Cathedral, with its striking pitched roof that extends almost right down to the ground and its tall, bright glass windows, can be seen from far and wide. The Polar Museum displays interesting items from the polar world and showcases the culture of the Sami people, who have lived in this region for around 9,000 years. The fjords and surrounding island and mountain scenery are wonderful.

Route N1 · N2

At Europe's northernmost point

Honningsvåg is the gateway to the North Cape, which is located just 34 kilometres away. The bus ride to the North Cape leads through a barren, incomparably impressive tundra landscape. With a bit of luck you might spot some wild reindeer. The post office with a special stamp is a unique souvenir. The entire island of Magerøya has been a nature conserve since 1929 and can be explored on foot.

Impressive midnight sun

It is a phenomenon that can only be found in the Arctic Circle: the sun shines 24 hours a day. That's provided the weather conditions are right – the sky must be clear and not obscured by clouds or rain. Only then does this unique natural spectacle play out, where day and night merge together and the sun never sinks behind the horizon. Experience how the unique landscapes of the far north look different, creating a kaleidoscope of rugged shapes and colours – it is truly unforgettable!

Lots of flair and colourful timber houses

Trondheim, Norway's third largest city, was the country's capital in the 11th century. It was founded by the Viking king Olav Tryggvason. The Nidaros Cathedral, which has been a pilgrimage site and national shrine for 1,000 years, is a reminder of this. In the centre lies the cosy old town of Baklandet with its numerous cafes. The residents of Trondheim are proud of having the most popular Norwegian farmers market with high-quality and, of course, organic produce. The "monk's island" in Trondheimsfjord is shrouded in legend.

SPITSBERGEN

Islands in the eternal ice

Spitsbergen – a dream travel destination for nature lovers. There are probably few places in the world more fascinating than this group of rugged, rocky islands in the far north. A stronghold for whalers in the 19th and 20th century, vast areas of Spitsbergen are today a nature conserve. Walruses, seals, reindeers, polar foxes, guillemots, puffins... The list of animals you can admire from up close on a Zodiac trip is long. And with any luck, you will get to see one or two polar bears too!

ICELAND

Steep, rugged mountainsides

You will be impressed by the location of the town of Ísafjörður! Colourful historical houses are dotted around the horse-shoe-shaped centre of Westfjords. They stand on a sandbank under the 724-metre towering rock face Eyrarfjall. The administrative centre of Westfjords was established in 1787, when its economic recovery came from fishing. Today, the "ice fjord" is manifested in its stylish white buildings. The most beautiful houses, all restored in a faithful Nordic style, are in Silfurgata.

Route N4 • N5

A town with many facets

Colourful roofs and ultra-modern buildings adorn the northernmost capital city in the world. In the centre of Reykjavík, there is a charming mix of galleries, bars and historical streets lined with houses. Reykjavík is a peaceful town. Relax in the impressive atmosphere of the Blue Lagoon among the black lava rock and warm, 39-degree turquoise water.

Route N4 • N5

Iceland, blossoming lupins

Colourful houses and whalebones

In 1787, the Danes chose the fishing town of Eskifjörður at the end of a rutted fjord to be its trading centre. Today, it features colourful houses and a gateway made from whalebones. Above it sprawls the imposing, 985-metre-high mountain Hólmatindur, which often blocks out the sun. The fishing museum has been lovingly renovated with its bright-red herring house. It was previously used as a trading house.

Route N5

Eskifjörður

Fjord of the hearth...

...is the English translation for Seyðisfjörður. Get to know this small town peppered with houses of Icelandic, Norwegian and Danish design by the Lodmund-Fjord, the most beautiful of which is the sky-blue house on the water, which is now a hotel. It's hard to believe that people lived here for centuries in total isolation until a trading post and a light-blue, white-washed church were built in 1834. In 1906, it was the first place to be "cabled" in Iceland, the telegraph and telephone cable on the seabed extends all the way to the Scottish Orkney Islands 615 kilometres away.

Route N5

Mild climate and lush vegetation

The city of Akureyri in the northwest of Iceland may seem unusual to you. With 960 hours of sunshine each year, the climate is milder and vegetation more lush. The wooden houses are architecturally significant. The Stryta mountain is made up of layers of gentle slopes and its peak is adorned by an icy sugar loaf. In the summer months, there is a lively art scene with festivals. In the attractive port, before you've even left the ship, you will discover what an idyll it is with its almost southern feel.

Route N5

Scoresbysund

GREENLAND

The most beautiful fjords in the world

For many, Scoresbysund is the most beautiful fjord system in the world; it is in any case the widest. The estuary was named after William Scoresby Jr., a whaler, scientist and clergyman, who was famous for mapping more than 640 kilometres of Greenland's coast.

Route N4

Spots of colour in the rocks

Ittoqqortoormiit in the far north is home to around 500 people. Traditional hunting and fishing methods are present and alive here. The location defies the icy cold: even in high summer temperatures rarely get over 10 degrees. Perhaps this is why the houses in this area are painted in all the colours of the rainbow, thus bringing some colour into the barren landscape.

15 days Hamburg • Norway • Bear Island • Spitsbergen • Longyearbyen

10.07.-24.07.2023

This cruise will take you from Hamburg via the North Cape to Spitsbergen. In the light of the summer, you will experience the whole of the Norwegian coast in all its majesty. Deep fjords and colourful towns alternate with each other. Through the Norwegian inner passage, with stop-offs at Lofoten, you will reach the legendary North Cape, one of the most northerly points on the European mainland. The Bear Island was discovered by the famous seafarer Willem Barents and is today a conservation area. Around Spitsbergen, you will observe polar bears, sperm whales and reindeer in their natural habitat.

Why this cruise?

- Travel to Spitsbergen on board our modern expedition ship WORLD VOYAGER
- Experience the landscape and world of animals up close on our unforgettable Zodiac trips
- Polar bears, sperm whales and polar foxes in their natural habitat

Your cruise itinerary

10.07. -11.07. Start of the cruise in Hamburg

Come on board WORLD VOYAGER at the port of Hamburg and enjoy one sea day at the start of the cruise getting to know your comfortable expedition ship.

12.07. -14.07. The south-west of Norway

The best views of Bergen are from Mount Fløyen. From the 400-metre-high viewing platform, the port and coast stretch out far and wide beneath you. This is where the composer Edvard Grieg lived and created his famous works. Visit his dwelling, where a museum now honours his life's work. Then it is on to the famous Geirangerfjord. When the ship travel through the narrow gorge, you should definitely be watching from the bow! The welcoming little fishing town of Kristiansund is spread over several islands and is famous for its dried cod.

15.07. -18.07. To Lofoten and North Cape

The ship heads north! After crossing the northern Arctic Circle, the 80 or so islands of Lofoten loom on the horizon. The Vikings once lived on the islands with their abundant fish stocks. Cod dries in the sun in front of the traditional red wooden houses, which show up as small dots on the barren landscape. In Tromsø, no sightseeing tour would be complete without a visit to the botanical gardens, the most northerly in the world. Or visit the sled dogs and learn the tricks of the sled drivers' trade. After a detour to Honningsvåg, North Cape is straight ahead of you.

19.07. -24.07. Spitsbergen

Halfway to Spitsbergen, you will reach Bjørnøya, Bear Island. It is named after the polar bears, which the explorer Willem Barents found there. Continue northwards, following in his tracks, until you get to Spitsbergen. The archipelago rises up majestically out of the water. Among barren rocks and the ice sheet, which even in the summer stands metres tall, tundra landscapes covered in moss and meadows appear in all shades of green, together with yellow blossoming buttercups and the Spitsbergen poppy, the national flower "Svalbard". Admire the reindeer and polar foxes on land, the walrus and sperm whales in the water and the puffins and Barnacle geese in the air. And with any luck, you will also see polar bears on the bank, dosing in the sun.

Spitsbergen is an unforgettable natural paradise! If you want to develop a better understanding of life in this special region, you should also get to know its history. Besides the initial exploration of the archipelago, this also includes its history of whaling, which was once one of the most important industries in Spitsbergen. Our route will take you to former outposts from the 16th century as well as other remnants of this trade at landing sites such as Smeerenburg.

24.07. Disembarkation in Longyearbyen and return flight to Frankfurt included.

24.07.-04.08.2023 • 04.08.-15.08.2023

This 12-day expedition trip enables you to fully explore Spitsbergen combining all the adventures the islands have to offer. They are one of the best regions in the world for seeing polar bears, walrus and reindeer in the wild. In the summer, thousands of birds nest on the impressive "14th July glacier" and on the Alkefjellet. On Zodiac boats, you will get right up close to nature! And on land, you will also gain an insight into the history of Spitsbergen. Abandoned settlements testify to the mining and work of the whalers, who lived on the islands from the 17th to 19th centuries.

Why this cruise?

- Get to know Spitsbergen on this intense, 12-day expedition in comfort on board WORLD VOYAGER
- Experience some unforgettable sights and sounds of a landscape where humans are just the "guests"
- Observe numerous bird species and Arctic mammals in their natural habitat
- See glaciers, icebergs and, with any luck, whales up close on regular Zodiac excursions

Your cruise itinerary

Day 1: Frankfurt-Longyearbyen flight

The flight to Longyearbyen including transfer to the ship ensures you arrive feeling relaxed. Explore the administrative capital city of Spitsbergen before embarking on WORLD VOYAGER late in the afternoon. Enjoy your first view of the rugged mountains covered in glaciers rising up majestically over the icy water as your modern expedition ship sets sail.

Day 2-5: Western and northern coast of Spitsbergen

Look forward to new adventures, day in day out. Your exploration of the Spitsbergen islands is dependent on the weather and ice conditions. You will come close to the animals that live there and fantastic coastal landscapes on small Zodiac boats. Your expedition sets off towards the west coast of Spitsbergen. Coal resources attracted English settlers to the region and Ny-Ålesund was established. Roald Amundsen lived here while he prepared for his North Pole flight. Even today, the place is one of the most northerly settlements with permanent residents. Send your loved ones a postcard with a stamp from the most northerly post office in the world! Ny-London is a former mining colony on Blomstrandhalvøya, the marble island. An absolute highlight along this section of your cruise is the "14th July glacier", home to puffins, purple sandpipers, the eider duck and arctic terns. In the Magdalenenfjord, you will see one of the most beautiful glaciers in Spitsbergen.

Day 6-7: Passage between Spitsbergen and Nordaustlandet

Natural beauty is not something Spitsbergen is short of – colourful tundra meadows interspersed with impressive glaciers. Birdwatchers will really get their money's worth on Alkefjellet. The cliffs of this bird rock teem with guillemots (Uria aalga) and their young before they prepare themselves to fly south in August. What follows is one of Spitsbergen's most spectacular views: the Bråsvellbreen glacier. For over 100 kilometres, a 30 metre-high wall of ice rises out of the water.

Day 8: Animal observation at Sundneset

Wild animals can be seen everywhere here – so keep your camera at the ready so you can document your encounter with reindeers or polar foxes when you visit places like Sundneset. Whales can also be seen splashing around Spitsbergen. Whalers settled on the deserted islands and began to hunt whales to produce whale oil. Your expedition team will always keep their eyes peeled for the “king of the arctic” – the polar bear. And up in the skies fly barnacle geese, red-throated divers and numerous other birds.

Day 9-11: Spitsbergen's southern coast

Grey rocks and deep-green tundra moss sprawl along the southern coast, where little auks have sought refuge. Amongst it all, you frequently see the huts left behind by the whalers and fishermen. On Gåshamna beach there are thousands of whalebones, which have been accumulating there for hundreds of years in some cases. The Recherchefjord took its name from the French expedition ship “La Recherche”, which discovered Spitsbergen in the middle of the 19th century.

Day 12: Disembarkation and return flight to Frankfurt

A German weather station was erected here in the first half of the 20th century.

19.-22.08. Explore the northeast of Greenland

During your cruise along the remote northeastern coast of Greenland, you can look forward to Zodiac trips and numerous shore excursions. Keep your eyes peeled for grazing musk oxen, as 40% of the world's musk ox population live in the northeast Greenland National Park. When you travel through the spectacular Scoresbysund, the birthplace of many icebergs, you will immediately see why so many consider this to be the most wonderful fjord system in the world. Places like Frederiksdal and Sydkap provide the opportunity to explore the colourful tundra and remains of the historical Inuit settlements. At the entrance to the estuary lies Ittoqqortoormiit, Ostgrönland's most northerly settlement, where you can meet Inuits and find out more about their way of life. And with any luck, the skies will clear so you will also be able to see the northern lights. Further into the estuary, Røde Øya offers a picturesque view of the beautiful, sky-blue icebergs against the background of impressive red sandstone cliffs. Unbelievable views await you in the King Oscar Fjord as well as during possible shore leave on the Island of Ella Øya, well known for its rugged cliffs and icy waters.

23.08. Explore Westfjords

Each region of Iceland has its own magic for lovers of nature, birds and history. The Vestfjords (Westfjords), where land dramatically meets the sea, are no exception here. Exploring this rugged peninsula on the remote north-western tip of the country offers impressive views of mountains, fjords and sky-high cliffs. The bay of Ísafjörður, where WORLD VOYAGER is docked, is the perfect place for kayak tours and Zodiac trips, weather dependent. If you are lucky, and provided the weather conditions allow, the cruise will travel past Látrabjarg, the largest bird cliffs in Europe and home to countless puffins, razorbills, guillemots and many other bird species. Another possible destination is the magical island of Flatey. In the local library, you can view a replica of Iceland's largest medieval manuscript with poems, legends of saints and Icelandic sagas: the Flateyjarbók.

24.08. Iceland's highlights

Along the "Golden Circle", experience the absolute highlight of every visit to Iceland. This 230km-long round trip will take you to some of Iceland's most beautiful and most impressive natural spectacles. Thingvellir National Park is where the Eurasian and American tectonic plates meet. Several active volcanoes testify to the tremendous tension the earth is under here. The tension can similarly be felt in the geothermal valley of Haukadalur, where there are countless geysers. One of the most well known of these, Strokkur, shoots a metre-high water fountain into the air every ten minutes or so. Hot springs bubble up from the ground and you hear steaming and hissing everywhere. There are probably few places on earth where you can come any closer to the elemental force of the earth's interior. The cruise then continues further along the Golden Circle to the Gullfoss and Brúarfoss waterfalls. With a loud roar, they take the water over several steps and into the depths. The Blue Lagoon is more relaxing. Thermally heated to 39 degrees Celsius, it is the perfect place for a spot of bathing.

THE NETHERLANDS

Between the North Sea and Wadden Sea

The largest inhabited West Frisian island of Texel is a popular travel destination and part of the Noord Holland region. The exposed North Sea welcomes visitors in the West, the Wadden Sea in the East. The island is home to grey seals and common seals. On the coast, you can often see porpoises. The “Hoge Berg” houses an insect sanctuary – the only one in the Netherlands.

Route S1

DENMARK

Denmark’s most northerly town

The friendly little town of Skagen is situated on the northern tip of the Danish mainland and forms the boundary between Skagerrak and Kattegat. Here the two side seas of the North Sea and the Baltic Sea merge spectacularly. In the 19th century, the artists’ colony known as the “Skagen painters” made Skagen famous throughout the world. Today, the town lives off fishing and tourists can admire the yellow houses that dominate the cityscape.

GERMANY

Natural paradise on the high seas.

Heligoland, with its landmark, the “Lange Anna”, rises up from the ocean waves as a reddish-brown rock. Here, you will witness nature in its basic form and a perfect little town all at once. Next to “Buden”, as the colourful wooden houses are called, sophisticated hotels and stores lined up. The former Danish, English and German sea fortress has been proven to have the cleanest air and the cleanest seawater in Germany, as well as the most bird species in Central Europe, grey seals and common seals on the dune’s beach.

Route S1 • S2

Gannets on Heligoland

Travelling on the Wadden Sea

The island of Borkum is the largest of the East Frisian islands and in peak season, it is pretty much car-free. Admiring the beautiful landscape of the rolling dunes and the infinite vastness of the Wadden Sea is even easier when you are on foot or on bicycle. With WORLD VOYAGER, you have the opportunity to also experience the island from the water on small, manoeuvrable Zodiac boats. Grey seals sunbathe in their hundreds on the seal bank, porpoises splash around in the sea and countless bird species, such as oystercatchers and guillemots, nest on Borkum. An unparalleled natural spectacle!

SWEDEN

Western Sweden’s archipelago garden

Gothenburg, Sweden’s second largest city, is a coastal city with charm and a delightful world of islands off its shores, the southern archipelago. Gothenburg has much to offer with its cathedral, the historic and picturesque quarter of Haga, the Kronhuset (the city’s oldest building), but also the (fish) market hall, the parks, a Ferris wheel, the botanical gardens and museums. The upper class atmosphere of the Vasa area is reminiscent of the Ringstrasse buildings in Vienna.

PORTUGAL

A city of contrasts

Colourfully painted houses line narrow streets and marble palaces crown grandiose squares. Lisbon stretches across seven hills. All this came from the immense wealth cultivated through the illustrious seafaring that opened the door to modernity half a millennium ago. Historic trams rumble up the hill, people flock to the river by the Arabic-looking residential area, and the maze of streets are filled with the sounds of Mediterranean life. During your extended stay in Lisbon, you will stay in the 5-star Altis Grand Hotel (or similar/equivalent accommodation). Route E1

City of fennel

This wonderful capital city on the Portuguese archipelago of Madeira is known for its centuries-old, Roman and gothic architectural elements and its wonderful, hilly landscape as well as its exotic botanic garden. The mountain world of Funchal with waterfalls and abundant nature is impressive and is the perfect place for hiking and exploring. As the first settlers discovered lots of fennel on Funchal, fennel is commonly used in its regional dishes. Spoil your palate with delicious wine and regional dishes and immerse yourself in a magical world full of picturesque insights and admirable architecture. During your extended stay on Madeira, you will stay in the 4-star Alto Lido Hotel (or similar/equivalent accommodation). Route T1 • E2

Lisbon

Flower Island of Madeira

Caribbean with a Dutch touch

Willemstad is the colourful capital city of the Caribbean island of Curaçao. Its picturesque countryside, narrow, colourful and varied houses and charming little streets, as well as its old town with numerous bars and restaurants are what make Willemstad so distinctive. The two city districts of Punda and Otrobanda are linked by a unique floating pontoon bridge. The fairy-tale city centre with its wonderful pastel-coloured panoramic façade has been listed as a UNESCO World Heritage Site since 1997. During your extended stay on Curaçao, you will stay at the 4-star Curaçao Marriott Beach Resort (or similar/equivalent accommodation).

Route K1 • K5 • K6

PANAMA

The Miami of Central America

Panama City is impressive! Full of contrasts, the city extends out along the Pacific coast of Panama. The old town, Casco Viejo, is situated on a small peninsula. Present-day Panama City emerged there around 350 years ago after the previous settlement was burned down. Small houses in Spanish colonial style and numerous churches adorn the narrow streets. Today, the old town is a popular district with restaurants, hotels and bars. On the other side of the bay, modern skyscrapers rise up into the sky, reflecting the sunlight. They are the reason the city was given the nickname “the Miami of the South”. During your extended stay in Panama City, you will stay in the 5-star Bristol Panama Hotel (or similar/equivalent accommodation).

Getting there by air

At the time of printing this catalogue, airline flight schedules had not yet been confirmed. Please note that changes to aircraft, flight times and routes are possible at any time. If there is an increase in fuel costs or tax, a surcharge may be applied. Frankfurt is the designated departure and final destination airport for the flight services advertised. Depending on availability, we can offer you other airports for a surcharge. Nevertheless, it may be that the selected airports are not available on certain dates. We have planned special or charter flights with renowned airlines for certain cruises from/to Frankfurt. Should aircraft not be available, transport to/from another German departure airport will be provided. Due to flight schedules and availability, flights within Europe may also be possible with a layover or transfer.

Further information on the terms and conditions of the airlines we use can be found at:

www.nicko-cruises.info/flight/wvo

For air travel, it is particularly important to give your correct name(s). Names must be exactly as they appear on the machine-readable part of the passport or ID card to prevent any issues with ticket issuance and entry into each country. Correcting names that have been incorrectly registered can incur high costs.

Unfortunately, we are not able to reserve a seat on your flights for you. Please check on the operating airline's website to find out whether you can reserve a seat in advance. The airline's website will also give you information on the current luggage policy and the option to check in online.

If you need to take medical bags with you (e.g. special medication or a walking aid), please let us know in good time so that we can contact the airline about the possibility of taking it with you.

Important travel information

Dear travellers,

We are delighted you would like to explore the world with nicko cruises on WORLD VOYAGER and are now starting to plan your holiday. We would like to give you some tips that will help you to prepare. There are a few special features and useful tips that are worth knowing for every form of travel. We have picked out what we think are the most important things for you to have a relaxing journey.

Animals/bicycles/sports equipment

Due to the lack of space on board, we are unfortunately unable to take on pets or to transport sports equipment, such as bikes, surfboards, etc. We apologise for any inconvenience caused.

Cabins

Your cabin number is usually provided with your booking confirmation. You are welcome to make a cabin request when booking, but please note these are requests and are not binding. Cabin numbers are expressly not a contractual component. Noises typical of a ship, e.g. from the ship's engine, the air-conditioning system, ventilation, etc. can be heard in almost every room. All cabins and suites are outside cabins. On WORLD VOYAGER, the Infinity Deluxe and the Veranda Deluxe Cabins can also be occupied by three people. Detailed information on the amenities of each cabin category can be found in the ship description from page 140 onwards.

Catering

WORLD VOYAGER is full board and information relating to the services included in your cruise can be found in the trip details. Depending on the cruise route, the catering may include local elements. Breakfast and lunch are served buffet style; at lunchtime you also have the option of visiting the Lido Café for a lighter lunch. Dinner is mostly served at your table. Meals are served in one sitting. Please inform us of any dietary requirements and special meals you require when booking. Suitable catering options will usually always be provided for you. Please understand that this may not always be possible on flights.

Changes to prices and services between catalogue printing and booking

1. The contractually agreed travel services in this catalogue are correct at the time of printing in January 2022. Please understand, however, that we expressly reserve the right to make changes to the services for objective reasons up until your booking request is submitted. We will, of course, inform you of these changes before concluding the contract.

2. The prices stated in this catalogue are correct at the time of printing and are binding for us as a tour operator. However, we expressly reserve the right – especially for the following reasons – to declare a change to the travel price before concluding the contract, which we will, of course, inform you of prior to booking:

- A corresponding adjustment of the price quoted in the catalogue is permitted after publication of the catalogue in the case of increased transport costs (particularly fuel costs); fees for certain services such as port, airport or entry fees; aviation security costs; air traffic tax or VAT; the so-called “bed tax” or a change in the exchange rates applicable to the trip in question.
- A price change after catalogue publication is also permitted if the package tour desired by the customer and offered in the catalogue is only available through the purchase of additional tourist services (quotas). The regulations relating to price increases/cuts in our travel terms, which we expressly reference, apply to pricing adjustments made after the conclusion of the travel contract.

Changes to routes and services

Sea voyages are subject to the special factors of seafaring that we have no influence over. The shipping company therefore reserves the right to make changes to the cruise itinerary without prior notice, should they become necessary for safety reasons or due to sea, weather or ice conditions or due to travel warnings issued by the Foreign Office.

Children on board

Children up to age 4 travel for free. Children up to and including age 12 receive a discount as stated in the relevant price sheet if they are accommodated in a cabin on Deck 6 (category Infinity Deluxe or Veranda Deluxe) together with their parents. There is no further discount on special offer prices. Please note that there are no child-friendly entertainment programmes, childcare, toys, child seats or cots available on board. On boat excursions, children must be able to get in and out of the Zodiac boats without assistance. Therefore, for safety reasons, the captain will decide on child participation at every landing/with all trips.

Clothing

We recommend wearing sporty, casual clothing on the ship. You should wear non-slip shoes on the outside decks. Neat clothes are required for dinner; you are welcome to wear something fancier for the gala dinner. For the onshore excursions we recommend clothing suitable for the weather conditions. For cruises in cold regions, we recommend warm clothing, even during the summer months, as well as waterproof and comfortable footwear for the onshore excursions. Due to infection risks associated with mosquitos, we recommend full-body, light clothing (long trousers, long shirts), as well as repeated insect repellent application on uncovered body parts when travelling in tropical areas.

Drinking water

As the fresh water on board the ships is always stored in tanks, we recommend not drinking the tap water and that you use the mineral water in your cabin and, if necessary, get mineral water from the bar, in the restaurant or at the coffee point on Deck 4 instead. The tap water is perfectly suitable for brushing teeth.

Electrical appliances

Irons, hair straighteners, immersion heaters and similar electrical appliances must not be used in the cabins for safety reasons. The voltage in your cabin is 220 volts. German plugs can be used without requiring an adapter. A hairdryer is located in your cabin and is free to use, while a laundry service is available for a fee.

Embarkation and disembarkation

Ships must sometimes change their berths at short notice despite what has been officially confirmed. If you arrive on your own, we recommend you arrive at the pier at least 3 hours before the ship is due to depart. Please note the precise embarkation times. Even if the ship arrives in the port earlier than planned, the crew must use this time to clean the ship. Please understand that you will not be able to board the ship until the specified time. Disembarkation on the day of departure is usually by 9:00 am.

Environmental protection

Your ship is operated with a low sulphur diesel (MGO) and has the latest generation diesel-electric hybrid engine manufactured by Rolls-Royce, which is low emission, consumption optimised and computer controlled. This makes travel as environmentally friendly as possible, even in sensitive ecosystems. WORLD VOYAGER has an SCR catalyser for the treatment of exhaust gases, which reduces emissions by up to 95%. In addition to a variety of waste prevention measures, we use an innovative thermal waste treatment on your ship, which leaves just biochar as a waste product. Please do your bit to protect the environment by using resources sparingly and helping to preserve our wonderful destinations for generations to come.

Excursions

For almost every cruise, nicko cruises offers you an excursion package with interesting trips, which we particularly recommend and which can be booked before you travel. Additional excursions can also be booked on board. These excursions often have a minimum or maximum number of participants. Detailed excursion descriptions and prices will be sent to you approx. three weeks before departure, or in exceptional cases at shorter notice too. They will also be displayed once you are on board. If you do not participate in an excursion you have booked, the cost will not be reimbursed. Arrival and departure times are guidelines. All cruises may require schedule changes. The captain will decide the best course possible depending on the conditions. We reserve the right to change times, itineraries, excursion programmes and prices.

Excursions on Zodiacs

The manoeuvrable Zodiac boats (robust, motorised inflatable boats) allow you to explore the waters and land in scenic areas and in places that are usually less developed. Excursions on Zodiacs offer quite special sights and sounds; however, they are dependent on official approvals and weather conditions. They are added to the excursion programme whenever possible. For all landings in Zodiac boats, travellers will be expected to wear suitable (preferably non-slip and waterproof) footwear. Each traveller must assess their level of physical fitness and participate in the expeditions at their own risk. Training in safety measures for landings and trips on Zodiac boats is mandatory for all participants. Please note that it is not usually possible for people with limited mobility to get in and out of the Zodiac boats, and that trips may be cancelled due to adverse weather conditions for safety reasons. This decision is made by the captain.

First aid on board/ medical care

A doctor and a nurse sail on WORLD VOYAGER to provide first-aid assistance in the event of accidents and emergencies. Billing for the doctor's services and, if applicable, medication that has been administered, is carried out on site. Our on-board staff (e.g. at the reception desk) are unable to dispense any medication. Please ensure that you have an adequate supply of any medication you need on a regular basis and carry it with you in your hand luggage. You should also have enough medication that you might need, e.g. headache tablets. We assume no liability for any medication and urgently required medical equipment that is carried in your suitcase. We strongly recommend you take out international health insurance, which also covers the cost of medically necessary repatriation to your country. WORLD VOYAGER is subject to strict hygiene regulations, which are constantly monitored by the ship's management. For your own safety we have hand disinfection equipment in multiple places around the ship, which every guest should use as often as possible to prevent the inadvertent dissemination of pathogens on board the ship. The transportation of medical electrical equipment on board is possible on request. Please note, however, that temporary power fluctuations can occur on the ship. It is generally not permitted to carry oxygen tanks on tour coaches. For certain cruises, e.g. our expedition trips, you may be required to provide a medical certificate (medical questionnaire), which must not be more than 90 days old and which confirms you are healthy enough to undertake the journey. You will receive the medical questionnaire together with your travel confirmation documents. Please understand that you may be denied entrance to the ship if you do not submit the medical questionnaire.

Flights

Flights that are part of your nicko cruises journey are carefully planned by us and booked through well-known airlines. To do this, we have taken into account the aviation company's flight schedules and availability, corresponding transfers, as well as sensible transfer times that allow you and your luggage to reach the connecting flight. If the booking class or airline calculated by nicko cruises in your price is unavailable at time of booking, we will offer you a higher value booking class. Flight times listed when you are issued with your travel documents are non-binding, as we have no influence on any changes to these times made by the airline. Please note that requests for rebooking flights must be checked and may be subject to a rebooking fee. So-called direct flights mean that there may be stopovers but these will not involve a change of aircraft (unlike transfer connections). Your arrival and departure days are not relaxing and, due to the flight times, it is quite possible that you may only arrive on the ship late in the evening (or after midnight), while your departure at the end of the cruise may require you to have an early start to the day. If your luggage does not arrive at your destination airport with you, please contact the airline directly. Please contact the Lost & Found counter in the luggage hall immediately. The airline staff on-site will require your boarding pass and luggage ticket baggage check to record the lost luggage. Please keep this notice of loss, as you will only be able to make subsequent enquiries by stating the reference number on the ticket. There will usually be German-speaking staff at each airline who can be reached via the relevant hotline and who will be able to provide information on how your luggage can be delivered to you on board. Further information on the terms and conditions of the airlines we use can be found online at www.nicko-cruises.de/flug/wvo.

Guests with physical limitations

Your ship will be as comfortable as possible, but there will of course be staircases, as well as narrow doors and corridors. Even boarding or disembarking from the ship is usually via narrow gangways, which are not always at ground level and, depending on the tide, can also be very steep. If you are not able to handle these obstacles on your own, an ocean cruise on our ships is not recommended. Our crew is of course on hand to help, however, please bear in mind that our onboard employees are not trained caregivers and are not permitted to carry out any nursing activities. If you require specialised help, you must travel with a companion. Our ocean ship is not disabled accessible.

Internet on board

WORLD VOYAGER is equipped with a satellite reception system and offers WLAN internet connection for a fee (please note the ship information). Continuous reception cannot always be guaranteed; there may be interruptions to network coverage on the high seas. Please understand that we are unable to reimburse you for costs caused by coverage interruptions. In order to guarantee a stable internet service, there are restrictions on certain streaming providers and internet services. For more information please refer to the on-board ABC information in your cabin. If you have any questions, please contact the reception desk staff who will be happy to help.

Luggage

Your luggage must only contain personal items. It is forbidden to bring weapons, knives, alcohol or drugs on board. For safety reasons, you are not allowed to bring beverages or food on board. This also applies to anything bought for consumption during shore excursions. The hotel management is happy to store local products/souvenirs that you wish to take home with you for safekeeping until you leave the ship. In accordance with the rules of the International Ship and Port Facility Security (ISPS), every piece of luggage – including hand luggage – is examined during embarkation.

Passenger manifest

For all of our cruises on WORLD VOYAGER we require information from you in advance of departure in order to draw up a passenger manifest. This helps the ship to be cleared faster by the authorities in the various ports we visit and therefore shortens waiting times for you. Information provided for this passenger manifest is subject to the Privacy Policy. You will receive your personal log-in details for the online registration of the manifest data with your booking confirmation.

Passports/Visas

Please check that all necessary papers and records are valid well in advance of your trip. We would like to point out that you are responsible for having the appropriate travel documentation, visas and for complying with the vaccination requirements. Please note the "Important Travel Advice" at the end of the respective travel chapter in this catalogue. Austrian and Swiss citizens, as well as other nationalities, should contact their responsible consulate or travel agency. In the event of non-compliance with the passport, visa and vaccination regulations, travel may be prevented or it can lead to considerable costs for the passenger. If a cruise cannot be taken due to improper documentation, there will be no refund of the travel price. You will not need a visa for the Russian Federation when travelling as part of our excursion programme in St. Petersburg. If you plan on taking shore leave in St. Petersburg on your own, a visa is a mandatory requirement. The visa is not included in our travel services and each guest is responsible for procuring their own visa. You can obtain a visa for Russia either directly through the responsible consulate/embassy service centre in your country or use a visa service to apply on your behalf. We are happy to provide recommendations should you wish to use a visa service company. Please read up about any customs regulations along your cruise route in advance of departure.

Payment on board

The currency on board is the Euro. You can pay for beverages you consume on board and trips booked on board at the end of your journey in cash in Euro. You can of course also pay your onboard bill using your credit card (Mastercard, Visa, American Express) or your debit card.

Please note that paying with a credit card will incur a transaction fee. In some circumstances, foreign travel charges may be incurred by your bank or credit card company for card payments, as WORLD VOYAGER sails under the Portuguese flag. Please note: money cannot be exchanged on the ship.

Post

You can send post while on board. It will usually be sent when we reach the next port. Postcards and postage stamps can be purchased at reception, but please bear in mind that prices on board may be more expensive than ashore.

Pregnant guests

At the point of departure, pregnant travellers must present a medical certificate as verification that there are no medical concerns about their participation on the cruise. Please note that you will not be able to come on the cruise if you are already in the 24th week of pregnancy or have a high-risk pregnancy.

Risk coverage documents

Your travel price is ensured in accordance with EU guidelines. You will receive the travel price risk coverage document with your nicko cruises travel confirmation.

Roads/ship moorings

Each ship has a berth in each port, which can be changed by the authorities at short notice. These are not always centrally located. You will see the anchor symbol in front of various docking points in your cruise itinerary; this means that your ship will not dock at a pier – it will anchor at a safe, designated place or, in nautical terms, it will be lying "in the roads". Please note that it is always the responsibility of the port authorities to assign our vessel another berth at anchor in the roads at short notice; this is beyond the control of the shipping company. In these cases there will be a regular shuttle service between the ship and port, which will either be on tender boats or on the ship's own motorised Zodiac boats. Disembarking depends on weather conditions. Unfortunately, for security reasons, customers who only have limited mobility cannot make use of this service. This also applies to guests with severely impaired vision.

Services not included in the price

Please note that the following services are not included in our travel prices: individual travel to and from the ship, excursions – if not expressly stated as being included in the travel price – insurance, beverages, tips (we recommend €13-17 per day/person), other personal expenses.

Ship equipment

On board your ship you will find communal facilities such as a spa area or fitness room which you are free to use. Use them at your own risk. Massage treatments are available for a fee. There are chairs, tables and sun loungers in the pool area. Please understand that there are limited numbers and there are the maximum number possible for the deck space. The use of the pool and whirlpool is dependent on the current and forecasted swell and weather. If conditions are unsuitable, they will not be filled with water. The decision is made exclusively by the captain. Please note that the on-board shop is only open outside the 12-mile zone.

Shore excursions

Onshore excursions organised and put together for you by nicko cruises take you to some of the most beautiful countryside and important sights along your cruise route. You are, of course, welcome to explore the holiday destination on your own. You are able to leave the ship when the authorities and ship's captain have officially approved disembarkation and the corresponding announcement has been made. Please refer to the daily programme for information on when you should be back on board. The ship is unable to wait for late passengers due to the berthing times agreed with the port. Any extra costs incurred (such as hotel or additional transfer costs) will not be covered. If your ship is at anchor off the coast, landing will be in a tender boat.

Smoking

Smoking is only permitted on labelled outside decks. Please only use the ashtrays provided. All internal areas such as restaurants, lounges, cabins (also balconies), corridors, etc. are non-smoking areas.

Telephones on board (communication)

It is possible to make calls on board from cabin to cabin. It is also possible to call ashore via a satellite link. The costs of this, however, are high and we recommend using your own mobile phone (please check with your provider for information on roaming charges).

Tips

It is common practice around the world for a satisfied guest to reward the services of staff accordingly. The amount tipped is, of course, at the guest's discretion and should be in recognition of good service. We recommend €13-17 per guest and per overnight stay for the ship crew. The cruise director, local tour guides and bus drivers are not included in this. You can, however, also thank them by giving them a tip.

Transfers

If you have booked a cruise via nicko cruises with a flight travel package, transfer to the ship and back to the airport at the end of the cruise is included in the travel price. When getting there by air, our tour guide will wait for you in the airport building the other side of the baggage claim. As we sometimes transfer guests together from several flights landing in quick succession, there may under these circumstances be a wait until the transfer bus can depart. Your tour guide on site will keep you informed.

Travel documents

The travel documents are ready for dispatch approx. 14 days before departure and will be sent to you by e-mail immediately after payment has been received. The travel documents contain important information, including embarkation information and vouchers for the services you have booked. In individual cases, the documents may be delayed and not arrive until a few days before departure.

TV

Your ship has flat screen TVs that work with a satellite dish, so television reception is guaranteed for most of the trip.

Vaccinations

Please consult with your family doctor for information about infection and vaccination protection as well as other prophylactic measures in good time before you start your trip. Each passenger is responsible for meeting the requirements of the entry regulations of each destination. Only children who have been vaccinated against measles are permitted to use the children's area. Proof must be provided by presenting the vaccination certificate.

A yellow fever vaccination is mandatory when travelling from yellow fever areas to the Caribbean and Cape Verde Islands. Please also note here the "Important Travel Advice" at the end of the respective travel chapter in this catalogue. Each guest is responsible for meeting the entry requirements at each of the respective destinations.

Valuables

All cabins are equipped with a small safe box in which you can store your valuables. However, we recommend that you do not take items such as expensive jewellery, etc. on the cruise. We sometimes visit parts of the world in which for our standards lower affluence levels are considered abundant riches, and the display of valuables can evoke covetousness. We would like to point out that valuables, such as cameras, jewellery, cash and other expensive items, must be carried in your hand luggage. Liability for valuables lost in unattended checked-in baggage is excluded.

c) The contractual languages used to carry out the online booking are indicated. Only German is legally relevant.

d) If the nc contract text is stored in the online booking system, the customer will be informed about this and will be given the option to retrieve the contract text at a later date.

a) By pressing the “Book and pay” button, nc offers the customer the binding completion of the package travel contract. The customer is bound to this contract offer for three working days from the date of sending the electronic declaration.

f) The customer is immediately informed of the receipt of their booking by electronic means.

g) The submission of the booking by pressing the “Book and pay” button does not justify any claim of the customer to the conclusion of a package travel contract according to their booking details. Rather, nc is free to either accept or decline the customer's contract offer.

h) The contract comes into effect when the customer has access to the travel confirmation sent by nc.

i) If this travel confirmation appears immediately after the customer makes the booking by pressing the “Book and pay” button via the immediate presentation of the travel confirmation on the screen (booking in real-time), the customer has access to the package travel contract and the travel confirmation is displayed on the customer's screen. Failing this, the customer will receive an interim notification regarding receipt of their booking in accordance with f), insofar as the customer is given the option of saving the travel confirmation on a permanent data medium and printing it out. However, the binding nature of the package travel contract is not dependent on the customer actually using these options for storage or printout. nc will also provide the customer with a copy of the travel confirmation in text form.

1.4. nc points out that according to the legal regulations (§§ 312 Paragraph 7, 312g Paragraph 2 Sentence 1 no. 9 BGB) for package travel contracts pursuant to § 651a and § 651c BGB (German Civil Code), that there is no right of cancellation for contracts concluded via distance selling (letters, catalogues, telephone calls, faxes, e-mails, messages sent via mobile services (SMS), as well as by radio, telemedia and online services), but only the statutory rights of withdrawal and termination, in particular the right of withdrawal according to § 651h BGB (see also Section 5). There is, however, a right of withdrawal if the contract for travel services pursuant to § 651a BGB (German Civil Code) was concluded outside of business premises, unless the oral negotiations on which the conclusion of the contract is based have been conducted on the prior order of the consumer: in the latter case, there is no right of withdrawal.

2. Payment

2.1. nc and travel agents may only claim or accept payments for the travel price prior to the completion of the package tour if there is an effective protection contract and the customer has been provided with the risk coverage documents with the name and contact details of the credit institute in a clear, understandable and highlighted manner. Upon conclusion of the contract, a down payment of 20% of the travel price will be due for payment upon delivery of the risk coverage documents. The final payment is due 30 days prior to departure, provided that the risk coverage document has been handed over and the trip can no longer be cancelled for the reason stated in Section 8. For bookings with less than 30 days to go before departure, the entire travel price is due immediately.

2.2. If the customer does not make the down payment and/or the final payment in accordance with the agreed payment due date, although nc is willing and able to provide the contractual services properly, has fulfilled its statutory information obligation and the customer has no legal or contractual offset right or right of retention and the customer is responsible for delayed payment, then nc is entitled, after sending a reminder with a deadline after the deadline has expired, to withdraw from the package travel contract and to charge the customer cancellation costs in accordance with Section 5.

3. Changes to the content of the contract prior to departure, which do not affect the travel price

3.1. Deviations in key features of the travel services from those outlined in the content of the package travel contract which became necessary after the conclusion of the contract and were carried out by nc in good faith are permitted to nc before departure, insofar as the deviations are insignificant and do not affect the overall arrangement of the booked trip.

3.2. nc is obligated to inform the customer of service changes as soon as the reason for the change is known via a permanent data medium (e.g. via e-mail, SMS or voice message) in a clear, understandable and emphasised manner.

3.3. In the event of any material change to any essential feature of a travel service or deviation from the customer's specific requirements that have become part of the package travel contract, the customer shall be entitled within a reasonable time limit set by nc upon notification of the change to either accept the amendment or to withdraw from the package travel contract free of charge. If the customer does not expressly declare to nc their withdrawal from the package travel contract within the deadline set by nc, the change shall be deemed accepted.

3.4. Any warranty claims remain unaffected to the extent that the changed services are defective. If nc incurred lower costs when carrying out the modified journey or any replacement tour of equivalent quality, the difference should be reimbursed to the customer in accordance with § 651m (2) German Civil Code

4. Price increase; price cut

4.1. nc reserves the right, in accordance with § 651f, 651g BGB (German Civil Code) and the following regulations, to increase the travel price agreed in the package travel contract if this change occurred after the contract was concluded

a) Increase in the price of transporting passengers due to higher fuel or other energy costs,
b) Increase in taxes and other charges for agreed travel services, such as tourist taxes, port or airport charges, or
c) A change in the exchange rates applicable to the package tour concerned directly affects the travel price.

4.2. An increase in the travel price is only permitted if nc clearly and comprehensibly informs the traveller about the price increase and its reasons in text form and informs them of the calculation of the price increase.

4.3. The price increase is calculated as follows:

a) If the price for the transport of persons according to 4.1a) is increased, nc may increase the travel price in accordance with the following calculation:

- In the event of a seat-based increase, nc may charge the customer for the increase.
- Otherwise, the increased costs for fuel or other energy costs required by the transport company for each means of transport of nc will be divided by the number of persons carried. nc can claim payment from the customer for each person carried for the resulting increase.

b) In the event of an increase in taxes and other charges according to 4.1b), the travel price may be increased by the corresponding pro rata amount.

c) In the event of an increase in exchange rates according to 4.1c), the travel price can be increased to the extent that the journey has become more expensive for nc.

4.4. nc is obliged to provide the customer/traveller with a reduction of the travel price at their request, if and to the extent that the prices, charges or exchange rates specified in 4.1 a) -c) have changed after the conclusion of the contract and this leads to lower costs for nc before departure. If the customer/traveller has paid more than the amount owed hereafter, the surplus shall be reimbursed to them by nc. However, nc may deduct the administrative expenditure that has been incurred by nc from the amount to be reimbursed. nc must prove to the customer/traveller, at their request, the cost of administrative expenses that have been incurred.

4.5. Price increases are only permitted up to 20 days before departure.

4.6. In the event of price increases of more than 8%, the customer is entitled within a reasonable time limit set by nc upon notification of the price increase to either accept the change or to withdraw from the package travel contract free of charge. If the customer does not expressly declare to nc their withdrawal from the package travel contract within the deadline, the change shall be deemed accepted.

5. Cancellation by the customer before departure/cancellation fees

5.1. The customer may withdraw from the package travel contract at any time before departure. Their withdrawal should be declared to nc at the below address, or, if booked through a travel agent, the withdrawal declaration can also be sent to them. We recommend the customer withdraw from the contract in text form.

5.2. If the customer withdraws before departure or if the customer does not start the journey, nc is not entitled to receive the travel price. Instead, nc can demand reasonable compensation, insofar as withdrawal is not the responsibility of nc. nc cannot claim compensation for unavoidable, extraordinary circumstances at the destination or in its immediate vicinity which significantly affect the operation of the package tour or the transport of persons to the destination; circumstances are unavoidable and extraordinary if they are not under the control of the party invoking them and their consequences could not have been avoided even if all reasonable arrangements had been made.

5.3. nc has determined the following compensation charges taking into account the period between the withdrawal notice and departure, as well as the expected expense savings and the expected purchase through other uses of the travel services. Compensation will be calculated after the time of receipt of the notice of withdrawal using the following scale:

a) Trips from the main catalogue, trips without any special labels
up to 150 days before departure	10%
up to 90 days before departure	20%
up to 45 days before departure	30%
up to 30 days before departure	50%

up to 10 days before departure	75%
up to one day before departure	90%

and on the day of departure or in the event of non-attendance, 95% of the agreed travel price

b) Special offers at special prices (labelled as: "special offers")

up to 90 days before departure	30%
up to 45 days before departure	40%
up to 30 days before departure	60%
up to 10 days before departure	85%
up to one day before departure	90%

and on the day of departure or in the event of non-attendance, 95% of the agreed travel price

c) Cancellation of single beds (individual travellers) in double or multi-bed cabins (trips from the main catalogue)

up to 90 days	50%;
from 89 to 45 days	75%;
from 44 to 10 days before departure	90%

from 9 days until the day of arrival or in the event of non-occurrence, 95% of the agreed travel price.

d) Cancellation of single beds (individual travellers) in double or multi-bed cabins (special offers)

up to 90 days before departure	60%
from 89 to 45 days before departure	90%

from 44 days until the day of arrival or in the event of non-attendance, 95% of the agreed travel price.

5.4. The customer is free to prove to nc that nc did not incur any losses or a far lower loss than the cancellation compensation demanded by nc.

5.5. Cancellation compensation according to Section 5.3. is deemed not to have been determined and agreed if nc proves that nc incurred significantly greater expenditure than the calculated lump sum amount that would have been applied in the event of an agreement. In this case, in this case, nc is obliged to quantify and justify the required compensation, taking into consideration saved expenditure and acquisition and any other use of travel services.

5.6. If nc is obliged to refund the travel price due to a cancellation, Section 651h (5) German Civil Code remains unaffected.

5.7. According to § 651 e BGB (German Civil Code), when notifying nc on a permanent data medium requesting a third party to enter into the rights and duties under the package travel contract in their stead, the customer's legal rights remain unaffected by the above conditions. Such a declaration is considered timely if nc is informed 7 days before departure.

5.8. Taking out travel cancellation insurance and insurance to cover repatriation costs in case of accident or illness is strongly recommended.

6. Rebooking

6.1. After the conclusion of the contract, the customer may not make a claim for rebooking (changes regarding the travel date, travel destination, place of travel, accommodation, type of catering, type of transport or other services). This does not apply if the rebooking is necessary because nc has provided insufficient or false pre-contractual information to the traveller pursuant to Art. 250 § 3 EGBGB (Introductory Act to the German Civil Code); in this case, the rebooking is free.

6.2. Upon request of the customer, nc may review rebooking options. If nc makes a rebooking, nc may charge a rebooking fee from the customer for each traveller affected by the rebooking, subject to the following time limit. Unless otherwise agreed on a case-by-case basis prior to the rebooking being agreed, rebooking fees amount to €200 per person up to 150 days before the journey. Customer rebooking requests that take place after expiration of the deadline as well as rebooking requests that concern special offer trips at special prices, can, if their execution is possible at all, only be carried out after withdrawal from the travel contract according to Section 5 in line with the conditions and the making of a new registration. This does not apply to rebooking requests that only incur minor costs. Previously promised cabin numbers cannot be taken into account when rebooking.

7. Unused services

If the traveller accepts individual travel services, for whose contractual provision nc was prepared and able to provide, and does not make use of these services for their own reasons, the traveller has no entitlement to the partial reimbursement of the travel price, insofar as such reasons would not have entitled them to free withdrawal or termination of the travel contract in accordance with the legal conditions. nc will seek reimbursement for the expenditure saved from the tour operators. This obligation is waived if the services are completely insignificant.

8. Withdrawal due to the minimum number of participants not being met

8.1. nc may withdraw the travel offer if the minimum number of participants is not reached in accordance with the following provisions:

a) The minimum number of participants and the latest date of receipt of the declaration of withdrawal from nc by the customer must be stated in the respective pre-contractual briefing

b) nc must indicate the minimum number of participants and the latest withdrawal period in the travel confirmation

c) nc is obligated to immediately notify the customer of the cancellation of the trip if it is established that the journey will not be carried out due to the minimum number of participants not being reached.

d) Cancellation by nc later than 30 days before departure is not permitted.

8.2. If the trip is not carried out for this reason, the customer will immediately receive reimbursement of the travel price they have paid, Section 5.6. applies accordingly.

9. Obligations of the customer/traveller

9.1. Travel documents

The customer has to inform nc or the travel agent, through which the customer booked the package tour, if they do not have the necessary travel documents (e.g. plane ticket, hotel voucher) within the deadline communicated by nc.

9.2. Notice of defects/request for remediation

a) If the trip is not provided free of defects, the traveller may request remediation.

b) Insofar as nc could not remedy the situation as a result of a culpable neglect of the notice of defects, the traveller cannot assert any compensation claims according to § 651m BGB (German Civil Code) or claims for damages according to § 651n BGB

c) The traveller is obligated to promptly provide the nc representative on-site with their notice of defects. If there is no local nc representative, any travel defects shall be reported to nc through the contact point provided by nc; accessibility of the nc representative or its contact on-site will be mentioned in the travel confirmation. The traveller can, however, also take the notice of defects to the travel agent through which the package tour was booked.

d) The nc representative is instructed to remedy the issue, if this is possible. They are not, however, authorised to recognise any claims.

9.3. Termination deadline

If the customer/traveller wants to terminate the package travel contract due to a travel deficiency of the kind specified in § 651i (2) BGB (German Civil Code), insofar as the deficiency is substantial, according to § 651l BGB, nc must be set a reasonable deadline for remedial action by the customer. This does not apply if the remedial actions of nc are refused or if immediate remediation is required.

9.4. Luggage damage and luggage delay during air travel; special rules and deadlines for requests for remediation

a) The traveller is advised that luggage loss, damage and delay related to air travel in accordance with the aviation regulations must be reported on-site immediately through a notice of loss ("P.I.R.") filed with the responsible airline. Airlines and nc may refuse reimbursement under international conventions if the notice of loss has not been completed. The notice of loss must be refunded within 7 days in case of luggage damage and within 21 days after delivery in case of delay.

b) In addition, the loss, damage or misdirection of luggage shall be reported immediately to nc, its representative or contact point or the travel agent. This does not release the traveller from their obligation to file a loss report with the airline in accordance with a) within the deadlines stated above.

10. Limitation of liability

10.1. The contractual liability of nc for damages that are not the result of injury to life, body or health and were not culpably caused is limited to the triple the travel price. Any further claims under the Montreal Convention or the Aviation Act remain unaffected by this limitation of liability.

10.2. nc is not liable for service interruptions, personal injury and material damages in connection with third-party services only (e.g. contracted excursions, sporting events, theatre visits, exhibitions), if these services were explicitly stated as being provided by third parties and the identity and address of the contractor was clearly indicated in the travel description and travel confirmation so that the traveller could clearly see they were not part of the nc package tour and were selected separately. Sections 651b, 651c, 651w and 651y BGB (German Civil Code) remain unaffected.

10.3. nc shall be liable, however, if and to the extent that violation of the information, explanation or organisational duties of nc was the cause of damage to the traveller.

11. Assertion of claims, recipients

Claims according to § 651i (3) no. 2, 4-7 BGB (German Civil Code) are to be asserted to nc by the customer/traveller. The assertion may also be made through the travel agent if the package tour was booked through this travel agent. The contractual claims listed in § 651 i (3) BGB (German Civil Code) become time-barred after two years. The limitation period starts on the day on which the journey ends according to the contract. We recommend making an assertion in text form.

12. Information obligation for the identity of the air carriers

12.1. In accordance with the EU regulation, nc will inform the customer of the identity of the operating air carrier(s) prior to booking or at the latest at the time of booking and of the identity of the operating airline(s) for all of the air transportation services to be rendered as part of the booked trip.

12.2. If the operating airline(s) have not yet been determined at the time of booking, nc is obliged to provide the customer with the name of the airline or airlines that are likely to operate the flight. As soon as nc knows which airline will be operating the flight, nc will inform the customer.

12.3. If the operating airline stated to the customer changes, nc will immediately and as soon as possible inform the customer of the change and provide them with suitable information regarding this change.

12.4. The "Black List" established in accordance with the EC regulations (airlines prohibited from using the airspace over the member states) is available on the nc website or directly via https://ec.europa.eu/transport/modes/air/safety/air-ban/index_de.htm and at the offices of nc.

13. Passport, visa and health regulations

13.1. nc will inform the customer/traveller of general passport and visa requirements, as well as the health formalities of the country of destination, including the approximate time limits for obtaining any necessary visas prior to conclusion of the contract and any changes to these prior to departure.

13.2. The customer is responsible for procuring and carrying the officially required travel documents, getting any necessary vaccinations and compliance with customs and foreign exchange regulations. Disadvantages resulting from non-observance of these regulations, e.g. the payment of cancellation costs, are at the expense of the customer/traveller. This does not apply if nc has not provided information or has provided insufficient or incorrect information.

13.3. nc shall not be liable for the timely issuance and receipt of necessary visas from the respective diplomatic representation if the customer has entrusted nc with the provision, unless nc has culpably neglected its own duties.

14. Special regulations in relation to pandemics (in particular coronavirus)

14.1. The parties agree that nc will always render the agreed travel services in conjunction with the service providers in compliance with and subject to the official regulations and requirements applicable at the time of travel.

14.2. The traveller agrees to observe appropriate usage regulations or limitations of the service provider when using the travel services and to notify the tour guide and tour operator immediately if the characteristic symptoms of illness appear.

15. Data processing; alternative dispute resolution; choice of law and place of jurisdiction

15.1. Data provided by the customer in the travel booking is used by nc to book and process the cruise as well as to forward information and offers to the customer. In the case of cruises abroad, processing includes in particular forwarding customer data to service partners abroad. More about the processing and storage as well as the rights as data subjects (in particular information and objection rights) can be found in nc's Privacy Policy, which can be viewed at any time at <https://www.nicko-cruises.de/en/rechtliches/data-protection> or at the business premises of nc or which nc is happy to send to customers.

15.2. nc points out that in view of the law on consumer dispute settlement, nc does not participate in voluntary consumer dispute settlement. If a consumer dispute settlement becomes mandatory for nc after these travel terms have been printed, nc will inform the consumer accordingly in a suitable manner. nc refers to the European online dispute resolution platform <https://ec.europa.eu/consumers/odr/> for all travel contracts concluded in electronic commerce.

15.3. For customers/travellers who are not nationals of a member state of the European Union or who are Swiss citizens, the exclusive validity of German law is agreed for the entire legal and contractual agreement between the customer/traveller and nc. Such customers/travellers can only file suits against nc at the nc headquarters.

15.4. For nc, claims against customers or contracting parties in the package travel contract who are businessmen, legal entities of the public law or private law, who are domiciled abroad, are ordinarily resident abroad or whose habitual abode at the time of institution of proceedings is unknown will be filed in the place of jurisdiction of the nc headquarters.

Form for informing the traveller on a package tour in accordance with § 651a of the German Civil Code

The combination of travel services offered is a package tour within the meaning of directive (EU) 2015/2302. You can therefore claim all EU rights that apply to package tours. The company nicko cruises Schiffsreisen GmbH, Mittlerer Pfad 2, 70499 Stuttgart, Germany bears full responsibility for the proper execution of the entire package tour. In addition, nicko cruises Schiffsreisen GmbH, Mittlerer Pfad 2, 70499 Stuttgart, Germany has the legally required protection for the repayment of your payments and, if transport is included in the package, to ensure your repatriation in the event of its insolvency.

Most important rights under directive (EU) 2015/2302

- Travellers will receive all relevant information about the package tour before the completion of the package travel contract.
- At least one operator is always liable for the proper provision of all travel services included in the contract.
- Travellers will receive an emergency telephone number or contact details to contact the tour operator or travel agent.
- Travellers may transfer the package tour to another person within a reasonable time and possibly at additional cost.
- The price of the package holiday may only be increased if certain costs (for example, fuel prices) increase and if this is expressly provided for in the contract, and in any case not later than 20 days before the start of the package tour. If the price increase exceeds 8% of the package tour price, the traveller can withdraw from the contract. If a tour operator reserves the right to a price increase, the traveller has the right to a price cut if the corresponding costs decrease.
- Travellers can withdraw from the contract without payment of a cancellation fee and receive full reimbursement for all payments if any of the essential elements of the package tour, with the exception of the price, are significantly altered. If the operator responsible for the package tour cancels the package tour before the start of the journey, travellers are entitled to reimbursement and possibly compensation.
- Travellers may withdraw from the contract in the event of exceptional circumstances prior to the start of the package tour without paying a cancellation fee, for example, if there are serious safety issues at the destination which are likely to affect the package tour.
- In addition, travellers can withdraw from the contract at any time before the start of the package tour by paying a reasonable and justifiable cancellation fee.
- If, after the start of the package tour, essential elements of the package tour cannot be arranged in accordance with the agreement, the traveller must be provided with appropriate alternative arrangements at no extra cost. The traveller may withdraw from the contract without payment of a cancellation fee (in the Federal Republic of Germany this right is called "Termination"), if services are not provided in accordance with the contract and this has a significant effect on the provision of the contractual package tour services and the tour operator fails to remedy the situation.
- The traveller is entitled to a price reduction and/or compensation if the travel services are not provided or are not provided properly.
- The tour operator will assist the traveller if they are experiencing hardship.
- In the event of the insolvency of the tour operator or, in some member states, of the travel agent, payments will be reimbursed. If the tour operator or, if relevant, the travel agent enters into insolvency after the start of the package tour, and if transport is part of the package, the return of travellers is guaranteed. nicko cruises Schiffsreisen GmbH, Mittlerer Pfad 2, 70499 Stuttgart, Germany has insolvency hedging with Zurich Beteiligungsaktiengesellschaft. Travellers can contact Zurich Beteiligungsaktiengesellschaft (Platz der Einheit 2, 60327 Frankfurt am Main, Germany, tel: +49 (0) 69 7115-0; Fax: +49 (0) 69 7115-3358; e-mail: service@zurich.de), if they are denied services due to the insolvency of nicko cruises Schiffsreisen GmbH, Mittlerer Pfad 2, 70499 Stuttgart, Germany.
